1ST ARMY GAINS IN FIERCE FIGHTING

FLYING FORTS HAMMER JAP SHIP CONVOY

Attack Continues After Three Vessels Are Damaged Badly Thursday.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 16—Flying Fortresses kept up an attack on a Japanese convoy of three warships and six merchant vessels at Lae, New Guinea, striving to complete the heavy blows dealt the merchantmen at the outset. The convoy, spotted at dusk approaching the Wewak area with a light cruiser among the ships, was swooped upon at dawn by the Fortresses, flying down in waves spaced 15 minutes to a half hour apart the planes quickly started an 8,000-ton cargo ship to sinking by the bow, caused another of equal size to list and forced a third of 4,000 tons to be beached.

Attack Continues

"We are continuing the attack," said today's noon communique.

A destroyer and a gunboat were among the bombers' targets.

The Japanese have resorted to Wewak recently for the landing of supplies destined for overland delivery to their allied-menaced base at Lae, some 325 miles southeastward along New Guinea's north coast. The complete destruction of a 22-ship convoy in the Bismarck sea apparently convinced them it was too costly to try to reinforce Lae and nearby Salamaua directly by sea.

There was a lull in Japan's resurgent aerial offensive but the allied air attacks continued. Fortresses bombed Lakuani airdrome at Rabaul, New Britain, 500 miles to the northeast of the allied New Guinea base of Port Moresby. New Britain's Gasmata airdrome also was attacked by Fortresses whose bombs started fires and explosions.

Jap Troops Attacked

Swarms of A-20 planes dipped low over Japanese troop positions in the Buigap creek area of Mubo, New Guinea, making 11 runs to bomb and strafe the enemy. A single Fortress dropped bombs on grounded planes at the Lae airdrome.

In a recapitulation of air and ground losses in the New Guinea fighting up to April 1, a spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur estimated today the Americans and Australians suffered 10,531 casualties, among which were 4,554 killed or missing and 5,977 wounded, many of the latter since recovered. On the other side of the ledger he placed Japanese casualties at 38,000 of which almost all were killed. The Japanese landed in northeast New Guinea in January, 1942.

HANLEY COMPLETES FIREBOAT CONTRACT

104 Produced at Prospect for Coast Guard.

The Hanley Engineering Service at Prospect, which less than six months ago converted the small community into a war production center when it started production of 104 fireboats for the Coast Guard, has finished the job and has sharply curtailed its operations.

Most of the 250 persons employed during the peak production period have gone into other lines of work. From the seven docks used at one time, Mr. Hanley, head of the company, plans to retain four at Prospect for experimental work, a small staff of workers being retained to carry on the experimental work and lay the groundwork for future work. There will be additional government contracts or private work after the war.

The fireboat had won favorable attention before the Coast Guard ordered 104 of them when a water jet method of propulsion, eliminating the conventional propeller. Construction of the Coast Guard boats has aroused the interest in this type of equipment, and Mr. Hanley said the company's future work in this field will include more fireboats. He said he is currently working on a high-speed model boat.

Contracts for two boats for the Great Lakes will be delivered in a few days as soon as they receive their finishing touches

County War Bond Sale Passes Half-Way Mark

Total Raised To $1,276,123 Yesterday; County Gets $60,000 Credit in Purchase by State.

Marion county passed the half-way mark in its Second War Loan drive toward a goal of $2,533,000 when yesterday's sales pushed the total to date up to $1,276,123.50.

A boost from an unexpected source helped the county's total yesterday when State Treasurer Don H. Ebright invested $15,000,000 of the state general revenue funds in one-year bonds and apportioned credit for the huge purchase among the various counties in proportion to their campaign goals. Marion county's share was $60,000. Wyandot county got credit for $30,000.

This item plus yesterday's sales in the county gave the campaign a $201,685 shot in the arm, and sent workers out again today determined to reach the goal before the nationwide 13-billion dollar campaign ends on April 30. Although the progress is regarded as satisfactory, it appeared unlikely that Chairman F. E. Guthery would get his wish that Marion county's total be raised yet this week.

Several "deals" were reported in the making today that will boost the total substantially, but preliminary arrangements necessary to complete them will make it impossible for them to be counted in before next week.

Yesterday's sales included $28,000 in "E" bonds, the series bought by most small investors and the kind issued to payroll deduction purchasers of bonds. This was second only to Wednesday's one-day sale of E bonds totaling $30,800. So far in the drive, 2,839 persons have bought E bonds and this total is expected to grow steadily as more payroll deduction purchases are credited to the drive total. Persons using the payroll deduction method of bond purchases are being asked to buy an extra bond this month, or at least to see if by adding a few dollars to the regular deductions they can round out a bond yet this month so it can be credited to the drive total.

One $50,000 Sale

One of the high spots of the Marion county drive to date was the sale, reported yesterday, of $50,000 in bonds to an individual, the biggest individual purchase so far. Another individual bought $22,000 worth, another bought $10,000 and another $4,000.

Corporation purchases are expected to continue, a $100,000 purchasing heading the list so far.

Marion and other counties may get credit for additional bonds from the state treasurer's office. The Associated Press reported Treasurer Ebright was making arrangements to invest an additional $21,000,000 from surplus money in the teachers', public

COURTHOUSE LAWN CONTRACT AWARDED

Landscaping To Be Done by M. E. Sipes.

Completing remodeling and improvement work around the courthouse, the county board of commissioners yesterday awarded the contract for landscaping and announced plans for moving the office of the county superintendent of schools into quarters on the third floor of the building.

Successful bidder on the landscape project was Merley E. Sipes of south of Marion, whose bid was $275. Only other bid received was for $460. In advertising for bids the commission said clay and stones would be removed and replaced by a six-inch layer of top soil.

The commission said the work would begin within the next 30 days.

A contract for $245.26 was awarded to Fred Hopper for laying of linoleum in the three rooms comprising the recorder's office. One other bid received was for $282.40.

Harrison Kraner, a member of the commission, said the new office of the county board of education would be in rooms formerly occupied by the commissioners in the northwest corner of the third floor. He said county school officials hoped to move into the new quarters next week. The school office is now located in the Leetonia building on West Center street.

The commissioners have taken quarters in the basement of the courthouse formerly used as a women's lounge. The lounge was set up in a room now located between the new commissioners' office and the office of the health board.

NORTHERN OHIO COVERED BY HEAVY SNOWFALL

Traffic Delayed, Buses and Street Cars Held Up.

By The Associated Press

A heavy snowfall that set a record for the date in some cities blanketed northern Ohio today, snarling traffic and delaying thousands of work-bound street car and bus riders and motorists.

Geauga county reported the heaviest fall—six inches—and 16 state highway department crews were called out to clear the roads there.

Four inches of snow piled up on Youngstown streets, making driving hazardous and delaying bus travel. The temperature there hovered just above freezing.

At Cleveland, a three-inch fall set a record for April 16, the weather bureau reported. Blizzard-like in its fury, the storm hampered driving visibility in Cleveland suburbs and delayed transportation as much as an hour.

Cleveland airport reported outgoing planes maintained their schedules but that planes due from the north and west had been grounded.

313 ATTEND SECOND PRE-EASTER SERVICE

Morning Worship Programs To Continue Next Week.

"The Bible As a Source of Power" was the theme of this morning's program of a series of pre-Easter services being conducted in the Central Christian church under the sponsorship of the Harding Hi-Y clubs and the school's Girl Reserves. Peggy Hale and John McKenney were co-chairmen for the service which was attended by 313 students and friends.

The service opened with an organ prelude, "That the Lord is Mindful of His Own," Mendelssohn, by Miss Kathryn Thew and Jack Loeffert led the singing of a hymn, "How Firm a Foundation." A call to worship read by Rex Kilbourn was followed by a hymn, "I Love To Tell the Story," led by Jack Loeffert and prayer led by Martha Gale Frew. "I Am the Bible" was the title of a reading by Peggy Hale and John McKenney led in the responsive reading. Completing the exercises were a reading, "A Living Book," by Bruce Nystrom, a vocal duet, "Into the Woods My Master Went," by Marjorie Schoonover and Ruth Ann Rea, a poem, "The Sufficing Bible," by Amos R. Wells, read by Virginia Howard, hymn, "O Word of God Incarnate," led by Jack Loeffert and the benediction led by Marjorie May. An organ postlude, "The Heavens Declare His Glory," Beethoven, played by Miss Thew, closed the service.

"Prayer As a Source of Power," is the theme for the service Monday. Serving as co-chairmen will be June Dietsch and Charles Elliott and the student speaker will be John Bryans who will talk on the theme for the day.

SEVEN SEIZED FOR SABOTAGE IN SHIPYARDS

Ohioan Among Group Accused of Faulty Work on Liberty Ships.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16—J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, announced today arrest of seven men, formerly employed as welders, on charges of sabotaging Liberty ships being built at the Bethlehem-Fairfield (Md.) shipyards.

Hoover said the men "have admitted performing faulty welding in order to finish their work in a hurry and earn more money." He added that there was no evidence of "any axis direction or sympathies on the part of the welders."

Another Bethlehem - Fairfield welder arrested on a similar charge several weeks ago was convicted of sabotage yesterday in Baltimore's federal court. He was George Arnold Steele, 20, formerly of Franklin Furnace, O. Sentence was deferred until April 19.

List of Men Held

Hoover listed these defendants to be arraigned today:

Herman Scherer, 26, a native of New York; Raymond Ashby Burkholder, 28, a native of Buchanan, Va.; Hiram Thomas Via, Jr., 22, born at Basic City, Va.; Farrell Houston Smith, 29, born at Catawba, N. C.; Leonard Lucas, 23, of Lancaster, S. C., who will be arraigned at Baltimore; Harley Brastus Miller, 22, arrested at Lexington, N. C.; and Wilfred James Gossman, 24, arrested at Zanesville, O.

"Many of the improper welds were in vital parts of the ships," the head of the federal bureau of investigation said, "and were only discernible through the use of X-ray. The full extent of the damage is not yet known; however, many structurally weak ships would have gone to sea if the defective welding had not been discovered."

Explains Their Act

Hoover said the workers were charged with using what is known as "bridge welding" and "slugging." He said that in the former method the workmen welds only the outside edges between steel plates leaving air space in the center, so that instead of completely fused plates there is only a veneer, with the result that the weld will break under certain strains.

He described "slugging" as laying welding wire between the two plates to be welded and melting only the top of it into a veneer, leaving the inside unfused and structurally weak.

Burkholder had received $2,100 in salary and bonuses since Jan. 21, Hoover said. He asserted Gossman had admitted "slugging" 150 inches of weld on April 6 and 188 inches on April 8.

The FBI in Baltimore said that Gossman and Miller were being held in Ohio and North Carolina respectively in default of $5,000 bond each.

The other five were called before U. S. Commissioner James K. Cullen in Baltimore for arraignment. They pleaded innocent.

Laval Orders Prisoners To Work for Germany

By The Associated Press

MADRID, April 16—Reports from France said today that Chief of Government Laval had approved a German plan to use all French prisoners of war immediately for work in Nazi war industries.

(The Daily Mail in London also said Laval had placed all 1,250,000 French war prisoners at the disposal of Germany, and that the prisoners were given no opportunity to refuse.)

CAPITAL ROWS ON 4 POINTS

Administration Under Fire Today on Variety of Topics.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16—The administration and its agencies were under fire on several capital fronts today over:

1—Labor resistance to the new anti-inflation order.

2—The President's nine-year-old dollar devaluation authority and the treasury's new international currency plan.

3—Civilian supply boss legislation.

4—Congressional demands to sit in on the world food conference.

Nub of the labor controversy is the war labor board's loss of power to approve pay increases for correction of "inequalities" through terms of the President's hold-the-line order.

Cement Workers Strike

Employes of the Universal (Pa.) Atlas Cement Co.—first to feel the order's effect—became the first to strike against it. AFL members of the WLB denounced the order as a "flagrant violation" of the no-strike-no-lockout agreement and contended it would cost the administration labor's confidence, while scores of CIO local unions wired their displeasure.

On the monetary front, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) called for a last-ditch fight against further extension of the President's power to devaluate the dollar as congress divided on Secretary Morgenthau's plan for a postwar international currency.

Taft held that the Constitution granted congress, not the President, "the right to regulate the value of money" as Morgenthau was called before the senate banking committee to justify a proposed two-year extension of the authority which expires next June 30.

Meanwhile, an informal canvass of house members showed opinion sharply split—and not according to party lines—over Morgenthau's plan for an international stabilization pool. Some agreed in principle, while others held that Uncle Sam would get much less out of such a deal than he put into it.

Third Major Row

The third major row of the day seemed likely to pit Capitol Hill against the war production board. Legislation to set up a powerful

Buy a Bond for Hitler's Birthday! Army Will Deliver It in Bomb Raid

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16—Next Tuesday is Adolf Hitler's 54th birthday, and the people backing the treasury's second war loan drive figure there's a good way for Americans to celebrate the occasion fittingly—by buying war bonds.

Just now Americans have raised more than one-third of the $13,000,000,000 goal of the bond drive.

To push it further toward the goal, Editor Austin V. McClain of the Washington, Pa., Observer, suggests that any American can, by buying bonds, make Hitler a birthday present of almost any military item he chooses.

A new bomb, for instance.

Authorities on birthday presents who also have a slight knowledge of ordnance will tell you that you might look a long time before you find a more appropriate birthday present for Adolf Hitler.

There's such a wide range of selection, for one thing. You can get anything from an incendiary to a two-ton block-buster.

The Army will deliver it free of charge to the most appropriate spot.

The whole idea is: You can buy any size bond and have at least a share in a birthday gift to a personality which has presented the world with untold misery and suffering.

The treasury, however, asks that you buy during April just as much out of current income as you can afford—and maybe some besides that. It's to finance a war that is costing the United States 6 billion dollars a month, and to keep the home front safe from one of its deadliest enemies—inflation.

ALLIED PLANES KEEP UP ATTACK TODAY

Flights Are Reported Crossing Channel Toward France.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 16—Allied planes crossed the southeast coast of England this morning and headed for France to continue by daylight the air offensive against the continent.

The foray followed a series of night sweeps by swift RAF Mosquito bombers and Whirlwind fighter-bombers, which ranged from northwest Germany to France to shoot up enemy rail transport, airports and small coastal craft.

One Mosquito pilot reported he had shot down two German planes, destroyed one locomotive and wrecked three others with cannonfire. Altogether more than a dozen trains were said to have been shot up.

Two Nazi planes were reported shot down over an airdrome at Avord, between Nevers and Moulins in Northern France. Whirlwinds were credited with destroying one enemy motor torpedoboat and damaging two others off the French coast.

The air ministry said all RAF planes returned from these daylight raids.

Fighter planes of the American Eighth air force engaged in sweeps over northern France at dusk last evening were reported to have shot down two enemy planes. Two of the American planes Eighth air force engaging in sweeps over northern France at dusk last evening were reported to have shot down two enemy planes. Two of the American planes were listed as missing.

American-built Ventura bombers of the RAF also made a dusk attack on shipping and docks at Cherbourg and the Le Havre airdrome.

The Russians meanwhile, announced their air force had struck heavy blows at the Baltic ports of Danzig and Koenigsberg.

Huge fires were left burning in both cities, which are vital links in the German supply route to the Leningrad front in Russia, the Moscow radio said.

22 MEN FLEE GEORGIA PEN

Break Led by Two Notorious Felons; Two Are Recaptured.

By The Associated Press

REIDSVILLE, Ga., April 16—Led by two notorious Georgia escape artists, 22 prisoners described by the warden as the "worst we got," escaped from Tattnall state prison early today after overpowering three unarmed guards. Two were captured later.

Warden H. R. DuVall said three of the prisoners jumped on guards B. G. Morrison, W. E. Overstreet, and N. M. Spivey, locked them in a cell, took the prison keys and unlocked the front gate.

After taking the guards' keys they dismantled the prison telephone switchboard and pulled a switch which plunged the prison into darkness.

They stole two prison trucks and a car belonging to Morrison and fled. The alarm was given a short time later, the warden said, when a 23rd prisoner, whom the warden believed might have been forced to leave the prison, surrendered to officers in Reidsville.

The others abandoned Morrison's car near Coggstown, 14 miles northeast of Reidsville, and resumed their flight in another stolen car and the two trucks.

The break was led, Warden DuVall said, by Forrest Turner, 36, who has escaped from Georgia prisons so many times that the records are confusing, and Leland Harvey, 34, who has escaped at least six times, and D. C. Black, 31. These three overpowered the guards, the warden added.

Turner was serving long terms for larceny, robbery and kidnaping. Harvey was serving a three-to-five year term and on a 5 to 10 year term for larceny and robbery, respectively. Black was doing a 5 to 10 year term for burglary.

MARION CO. TO GET HIGHWAY PROJECT

Route 23 from Marion to Norton To Be Resurfaced.

Plans for resurfacing of Route 23 from the county line just north of Norton to the Marion city limits were revealed today when the state highway department advertised for bids on the proposed project which is estimated to cost $98,920.

J. P. Shumacker, district deputy state highway engineer with offices in Delaware, said the project is an extension of improvement of the Marion-Columbus section of Route 23 started two years ago.

Approximately nine and a half miles of highway are to be resurfaced with a two-inch coating of asphaltic concrete, he said. The new pavement will vary from 20 to 34 feet in width.

Bids on the work will be opened at state highway headquarters in Columbus at 10 a. m., May 4. The improvement is to be completed by Aug. 31.

This is the second major highway improvement project planned for Marion county this summer which has been announced in recent weeks by the highway department. Several weeks ago plans for four sub-projects were announced for improvement of traffic conditions in the area serving the Scioto Ordnance Plant. These improvements were estimated to cost $186,800.

DRIVE CARRIES TROOPS NEARER TO TEBOURBA

Land Fighting Quiet on Other Sections of African Front.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 16—First Army infantrymen drove to within 13 miles of the key road junction of Tebourba yesterday in some of the fiercest fighting of the Tunisian campaign, it was announced today.

In a series of local attacks east of Medjez-El-Bab, the allied mountain line advanced to points between 25 and 30 miles from Tunis. Tebourba, once held by the allies in the eastward push last fall, lies 18 miles airline west of the axis-held capital.

Allied bombers and fighters continued their assaults upon axis air fields in Tunisia, although the weather was bad, and it was announced that RAF Wellingtons struck effectively Wednesday night at enemy airdromes in southern Sardinia.

Only patrol activity was reported on the Enfidaville line front, where Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's Eighth army again is massing strength for a climactic push to the north.

The First army, led by Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson, by a series of infantry attacks in the mountains, gained the highest grounds in northern Tunisia, overlooking the plain to Tunis.

The Germans, in two savage counterattacks yesterday, temporarily regained the 2,000-foot Djebel Ang, eight miles northwest of Medjez-El-Bab, but British infantry launched a counterassault of their own and not only retook the peak but ground beyond it as well.

French Hold Ground

French forces who stormed forward Wednesday to capture the Djebel Sefsouf, seven miles above the village of Kasrahoun on the southwestern rim of the axis lines before Tunis and Bizerte, also were hard pressed by the Germans, but held their ground and captured more prisoners, it was announced.

The Eighth army, pulled up before the Enfidaville line, about 50 miles south of Sousse, continued to patrol its mountain front while awaiting artillery to blast the Germans from their positions.

Air operations over Tunisia were restricted by bad weather, the communique said, but medium bombers again raked the remaining axis air fields in the battle area and big Wellington bombers visited southern Sardinia to start large fires on the Decimomannu airfield, it was announced.

Allied fighter planes were able to execute offensive sweeps and patrols over the forward areas and fighter-bombers attacked enemy tanks and vehicles. A large explosion followed one of these attacks. Two enemy planes were reported destroyed during the day while all allied planes returned to their bases.

The air offensive over Tunisia and the Mediterranean already has cost the enemy more than 450 planes in combat alone since the beginning of the Mareth offensive March 20. An additional 150 German and Italian planes have been destroyed on the ground, officers estimated.

Nazi Pilots Cautious

The German air force in Tunisia has been so weakened that fighters are sent up only to repel allied bombers and they have avoided combat with the large American-British fighter sweeps over the Tunis area.

With more than 30,000 axis prisoners already collected in the determined drive by combined British, American and French troops toward the Tunis-Bizerte bridgehead, the fighting had simmered down to a series of vicious local attacks and artillery action, but the final phase was unmistakably at hand.

Veteran British troops of the First army, who have been in the forefront of the fighting around Medjezael-Bab since November, dug in on newly captured heights in their sector looking down on the great plane leading to Tunis. They routed strongly-entrenched German and Austrian Alpine troops Wednesday to capture Djebel Ang, a height 30 miles west

FORMER COLLEGE HEAD DENIED PRISON PAROLE

Kilpatrick Plea Rejected; Mrs. Dickinson Case Delayed.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 16—Refusing to parole Walter S. Kilpatrick, former Cedarville college president, the state pardon and parole commission recommended he submit to a psychiatric examination before reapplying for release from Ohio penitentiary in April, 1944.

Kilpatrick, 29, pleaded guilty last February to felonious assault on a 7-year-old Toledo girl and was sentenced to an indeterminate term up to 10 years. He was on leave as Cedarville college president at the time.

A parole commission member said Kilpatrick "offered no explanation of his act."

The commission deferred until possibly next week announcement of its action on the second application of Mrs. Agnes B. Dickinson, Columbus attorney, for parole from Marysville reformatory. Mrs. Dickinson was sentenced to 1 to 10 years for embezzlement from the guardianship trust of Annie Burgy, an incompetent.

The commission granted paroles to 30 penitentiary inmates and conditional releases to five others.

Sandusky Workers Vote for AFL Union

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 16—Production workers at the Klotz Machine Co. of Sandusky voted 33 to 10 for representation by the AFL International Association of Machinists in a bargaining election held April 12, the regional national labor relations board announced today.

In another recent election, the NLRB said, machine shop employes of the American Steel Foundries Co. at Alliance cast 33 votes for the CIO United Steelworkers Union, 19 for the AFL machinists union and one vote for neither.

The regional board reported that the CIO United Automobile Workers Union had been certified to represent employes of the National Seal Co. at Van Wert after an election there March 29.

Marion Real Estate Board Hears Columbus Speakers at Dinner Meeting

Ballot Box Only Way To Correct Government Flaws, Group Told: "Public Officials' Lobby" Hit.

By W. T. BUCHANAN

"If you want to complain to some one about the way your [illegible] in the mirror and you will be talking to the right fellow," Hayden P. Edwards, Columbus real estate dealer, told members of the Marion Real Estate Board last night.

"We still have the ballot box in this country and if we don't like the way things are run we can change them in the democratic manner," Mr. Hayden declared.

He and Richard H. Frey, executive secretary of the Ohio Real Estate association, were the principal speakers at a dinner meeting of the Marion board at Hotel Harding. They discussed legislation now before the Ohio general assembly, and national trends in government affecting real estate dealers and taxpayers.

"Public Officials' Lobby"

"There was a time," Mr. Edwards declared, "when so-called vested interests were the strongest lobbyists in legislative halls. But now the most effective lobby is maintained by elected public officials."

Among these groups he mentioned the state associations composed of public officials in various county offices and as an example of their method of operation he cited the campaign now being waged in the legislature to provide pensions for Ohio judges.

"Although the bill provides that the judges shall pay four per cent of their salaries into the pension fund the system would be maintained largely at the expense of the taxpayers," he said.

A judge earning $[illegible] a year would pay in $8,640 in 20 years when he would be eligible to receive [illegible] a year for the remainder of his life. On an annuity where this same amount paid to a life insurance company would provide an income of less than $1,000 a year.

Drain On Treasury

"The difference," he said, "would have to be provided from the public treasury."

As a solution to some of the problems affecting property owners and taxpayers Mr. Edwards declared more attention should be paid to the peoples' representatives in congress and the legislature.

"But I can't lecture you men much on that point because you have sent Earl E. Thomas to the legislature and Dr. F. C. Smith to congress and they are both on their toes and doing a fine job," he declared.

Mr. Edwards also discussed the part real estate men should play in the war effort. He pointed out that real estate already was shouldering a heavy burden of the war effort through the control of rents.

"Of all the price control programs," he said, "the control of rents is the only phase that has been effective.

"Right now we have a war to win and it is the real estate man's job to help provide housing for workers in war plants."

Seek Rent Relief

Mr. Frey discussed bills now before the state legislature and told of the effort state and national real estate associations were making to bring some relief from rent restrictions.

The meeting, held in the Marion club room at the hotel, was attended by 20 members of the local board and guests. Among the guests were Michael O'Brien, L. F. Dennig, J. D. Williamson, Kelley Vance, William Lusch and Thomas Fisher. Henry P. Drake, president of the board, presided. B. R. Prichard is secretary and treasurer.

Aren't Parents Peculiar Folks?

EVER since I can remember, when I ask questions about certain things, Mother or Dad will say, "Now the best way to find out is to try it yourself and see."

That's why I thought it was pretty funny when my folks "had some words" about the kind of bread we were buying at our house. Neither of them seemed to know what to do about getting better bread.

Since Dad often calls me "Mother's Little Purchasing Agent," I decided to see if I couldn't straighten out the bread situation.

Each day, for almost a week, I bought a different kind of bread. But nobody noticed any difference until I got a loaf of Omar.

That night Dad said, "Now that's what I call real bread! There's good eating!" We all agreed.

Next morning at breakfast Mother said, "I've never eaten such delicious toast." And we all agreed.

It's been like this ever since we've been getting Omar Bread. Isn't it easy to find out about things if you do it the simple way? "Just try it yourself and see." It works with bread as well as anything else.

HY-SCORE BAKING METHOD GUARDS OMAR'S GOODNESS

CRUST. Golden-brown. Smooth and soft.
TEXTURE. Fully-developed cell structure. Cake-like appearance.
FLAVOR. Fresh, wholesome, wheaty aroma and a delightful taste that everyone enjoys.
FOOD VALUE. 99% digestible. An unexcelled source of lasting energy.
VITAMINS AND MINERALS. Enriched with Vitamin B1, Niacin and Iron in food form for nerve health, good digestion and good blood.
FRESHNESS. Out-of-the-Oven freshness that brings out the best in good bread.

How does the bread you are now using compare with Omar on these important qualities?

Berlin Says Schmeling Suffers from Wounds

By The Associated Press

The Berlin radio said yesterday Max Schmeling, former heavyweight boxing champion, still is receiving treatment for wounds he received as a parachute trooper in Crete in 1941. It said he was in Berlin.

The broadcast was recorded by The Associated Press.

The London Daily Sketch had reported on Tuesday a broadcast by the Nazi-controlled Paris radio said Schmeling had been captured by the Russians and was seriously wounded.

The United States has loaned Latin-American republics more than $85,000,000 to speed construction of the Pan-American highway.

Army Auxiliary Signs Daughter of Jim Thorpe

Grace Thorpe, daughter of the world famous Indian athlete, is pictured above after she enlisted in the WAAC at a Detroit induction center. Miss Thorpe, youngest of three daughters born to the colorful Indian athlete by a first marriage, lived four years in LaRue when her famous father was a member of the Oorang Indians, a professional football team sponsored by Walter Lingo of LaRue and entered in the National football league. The team, composed entirely of Indians, failed to win the league championship but in 1923 knocked off the Buffalo Bisons, world champions the previous year. Contacted in LaRue today, Mr. Lingo recalled that the team won most of its games chiefly by virtue of Thorpe on its roster. Thorpe, popularly known as the world's greatest athlete, is now employed as a war plant guard in Detroit.

Windfall Church Group Plans Event for June

Plans were made for the observance of India Lace day some time in June and to invite Rev. E. S. Nicholson, returned missionary to India as a speaker at a meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of St. John's Lutheran church, Windfall, Sunday afternoon at the church. Scripture by Rev. Harry Eswine and prayer by Mrs. Henry Helmlich opened the meeting. Miss Ella Rengert was in charge of a program on "Building in the Community." A tract, "Wearing a Cross," was read by Miss Sarah Rengert and a symposium, "Kingdom Building in the Community," was read and discussed by the group.

Money was voted for the New Guinea commissary. Mrs. Robert Helmlich was welcomed as a new member. The May meeting will be held on the third Sunday instead of the second. Mrs. Homer Ebert will be program chairman and the meeting will be at 2:30 p. m. slow time at the church.

The traveling flag was presented to the master of Progressive Grange from Bethlehem. A pantomime, "America," was given by Mrs. Ralph Williams, assisted by Peggy Grates, Barbara Kaelber, Marilyn Lindley, Ronald Lindley, Evelyn Mehaffey, Esther Lindley as letter bearers. Mrs. Joseph Paulus, Miss Marie Bender, Earl Augenstein and Walter Bender sang. A talk was given by S. B. Stowe, trumpet solo by Oscar Kaelber accompanied by Mrs. Robert Rice, playlet by Paul Smith and Miss Esther Augenstein. For the next meeting Progressive will present the program at United Grange.

HARDING SPANISH CLUB HEARS MARCOS KAVLIN

Native of Bolivia Speaks on Inter-American Relations.

Marcos Kavlin, native of La Paz, Bolivia, spoke at the monthly meeting of the El Circulo Espanol, honorary Spanish club of Harding High school, Wednesday night at the school.

He spoke on Inter-American relations, which was an appropriate subject with Wednesday being the annual Pan-American day. Interest of the pupils present was evidenced by the number of questions asked Mr. Kavlin after completion of his talk. He touched on the various phases of South American life and the social and economic problems confronting the common man of our southern neighbor. He brough out the Indian problem, which is especially prevalent in Bolivia. According to Mr. Kavlin, about 75 per cent of the Bolivian population is Indian.

Mr. Kavlin is a student at Ohio Wesleyan university, where he is majoring in economics. He previously attended the American Institute in La Paz, the capital of Bolivia. In his talk he explained that English is a required subject in Bolivian schools in addition to the geography, economics and history of the United States.

The Harding Spanish club meets monthly and discusses Spanish life and Pan-American affairs mainly. It was formed last year by Miss Elizabeth Conley, Spanish teacher at the high school. For the first part of the year only the seniors or second year Spanish students were allowed in the club but at the March meeting junior pupils were invited.

TAKES ACTION AGAINST CLEVELAND WAR PLANT

Fraudulent Claims Are Charged Against Company.

CLEVELAND, April 16. — The government yesterday asked federal court to impose double damages and penalties against the National Bronze & Aluminum Co. of Cleveland for "fraudulent and false statements and claims" in the manufacture of warplane castings.

In a civil suit brought by U. S. District Attorney Don C. Miller, the government sought damages of $2,000 each from the company, John J. Schmeller, president, and his two brothers, Frank and Edward Schmeller, until recently plant superintendent and metallurgist, respectively.

The action came as Attorney Donald W. Hornbeck, counsel for four of five company directors, announced Director Herbert W. Pfahler of New York assumed command of an emergency management of the company.

Hornbeck yesterday reported a federal grand jury had started an investigation of production conditions at the company's two East Side plants. He asserted as many as 60 per cent of some airplane engine castings had at times been rejected by the government.

The attorney said he represented all directors except Schmeller.

GENTLER TREATMENT FOR CONSTIPATION

If you suffer from constipation due to lack of "bulk", and have normal intestines, here are two things you ought to know about medicinal laxatives.

They work principally by working on you — irritating your intestines into action or drawing water into them from other parts of your body. A dose gives only temporary relief.

Treat such constipation by eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. It works chiefly on the contents of your colon, getting at the cause and correcting it. Eat ALL-BRAN regularly, drink plenty of water and "Join the Regulars"! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Fine for You! ...BUT NOT FOR YOUR MOTOR!

Today's longer "rests" give motor oil more time to drain down from or dry off of vital engine parts.

Today's START UPS can put as much as 200 miles of wear on your motor—*in one minute!

If you had an idea that a nice long rest was good for your car, think again. Think about the miles of unnecessary wear you put on your motor when you start up. Then, think how little more it costs to protect your motor against "start-up" damage—by using V.E.P. Alloyed-Oil. Remember, V.E.P. is the new alloyed oil which also rids your motor of harmful sludge, carbon and varnish, guards against corrosion—protection you need more than ever, now. For with today's slower speeds, shorter trips, your motor seldom gets hot enough to boil the moisture formed by combustion of gasoline—leaving much more sludge-forming water to contaminate your motor oil. Don't delay. Every mile of wear saved puts America a mile nearer victory. Stop in at your Marathon Station, switch to V.E.P., today.

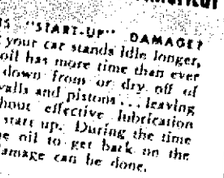
V.E.P. is the new, different Alloyed Oil that makes your motor last 50% longer than it would with ordinary oil

STEER CLEAR OF UNNECESSARY "START-UP" DAMAGE BY USING V.E.P. ALLOYED-OIL

When you fight wear...you fight for America!

WHAT IS "START-UP" DAMAGE? Now that your car stands idle longer, ordinary oil has more time than ever to drain down from or dry off of cylinder walls and pistons . . . leaving them without effective lubrication when you start up. During the time it takes the oil to get back on the job, real damage can be done.

V.E.P. STAYS ON GUARD! This different alloyed oil has a "magnetic-like" action which makes it cling to cylinder and piston walls for days—even weeks. You have effective lubrication before you step on the starter. And that's mighty important with repairs parts so scarce.



PROVE IT TO YOURSELF with this demonstration at your Marathon dealer's. Compare V.E.P.'s protection with that of ordinary oil. Feel the film of V.E.P. which stays put to protect your motor against "start-up" wear.

*Experts say there can be as much wear in one minute—on a motor starting up with "dry" piston and cylinder walls as in up to 200 miles of "warmed-up" driving.

BRICKER TO SEEK SHOWDOWN ON TAX

Governor Goes To Bat on Food, Medicine Levy.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 16—Gov. Bricker will tackle the house taxation committee Monday in a bold attempt to force action on an administration-sponsored bill to repeal the sales tax on food served by hotels and restaurants.

He personally will appeal to the committee to report out the measure which has been sidetracked since the senate unanimously passed in Jan. 26.

If necessary, it will be reliably reported, he will appear before the house to urge passage of the measure.

The governor told newsmen that "a matter of this kind should not be bottled up in committee."

The bill, he declared, should be brought to a vote on the house floor because "the people of Ohio are entitled to know who in the house are for tax reduction and who are against it."

"I am still interested in the taxpayers of Ohio and feel that they should at this time, when it is possible to do so, have the benefit of a tax reduction program," Bricker added.

Repeal of the sales tax on food, and prescription medicine (which the bill also provides) would save the taxpayers an estimated $5,000,000 yearly.

Informed observers were inclined to believe the governor was fairly confident of success before the house committee, because a rebuff might react as an unprecedented blow to his prestige in the legislature.

Bricker's decision to take such a step was announced late yesterday after a conference with Speaker William M. McCullough of the house in which the governor said he felt "very keenly that the bill ought to be passed." He added he had depended upon house Republican leadership to carry out his wishes.

House Republicans discussed the issue in a caucus April 7 and, McCullough announced then, voted unanimously not to proceed further with the sales tax repealer.

POINTS TO U. S. TASK IN AFRICA

Stimson Declares American Troops Played Role Assigned Them.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16—American troops in Tunisia played an important part in the major victory over the axis in Tunisia, Secretary of War Stimson said yesterday, operating precisely according to plans and orders.

Stimson said he believed reports critical of American operations in Tunisia, which he said have been circulated in recent days, had not been quite fair to the American troops. Specifically, he said, the Americans had not driven through to the coast in a move to intercept the northward flight of Marshal Rommel's forces because they were under strict orders not to advance beyond a designated line in the hills west of the coastal plain.

In the master plan for the Tunisian campaign, Stimson told his press conference, the major task was given to the British 8th Army, while the Americans in central Tunisia, the French forces in the Oussettia valley and the British 1st Army in the north were assigned to "holding" operations.

Patton Had Definite Task

Despite the relatively small size of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 2nd corps—composed of one armored and two infantry divisions—the Americans were assigned, Stimson said, to "contain" the axis forces on a front of approximately 100 miles between El Guetar and Fondouk.

They accomplished this assignment, while operating in difficult country against the best German armored and motorized units, the secretary continued, and Patton's thrusts forced Rommel to divert so much armor to the protection of his flank that the breaking of the Mareth line by the British 8th Army was greatly facilitated.

"General Patton was limited to the operations assigned to him," Stimson said. "It is possible that the allied high command weighed the possibility of a thrust to the coast. Knowing General Patton, I am sure he would have welcomed such an assignment. I happen also to know that it was not given to him."

Fought for 22 Days

Stimson said Patton's forces were engaged in almost continual "useful fighting" for 22 days, and suffered substantial losses.

The secretary estimated the axis

They did their job with a combination of skill, courage and brilliance unsurpassed in the history of wartime reporting.

"Their work was not only a consistent source of inspiration to the entire staff and membership of The Associated Press, but demonstrated once again the capacity of AP men everywhere, under all conditions, to rise superbly to emergencies. * * *

"Notwithstanding barrages of propaganda from all directions, the truth has been told and written. * * *

"Some concern has been expressed that governmental trends under the stress of wartime conditions would lead to restrictions upon reportorial or photographic enterprise . . . actually, there have been as yet no unreasonable restrictions on the assignments of war correspondents or cameramen, or lack of opportunities for them to operate as freely as military security or due regard for their own safety permits, on all major fronts.

"The facts of the situation not only are that the assignments of staff men to the war zones have been substantially increased during 1942, but that the utmost cooperation by both Army and Navy authorities has facilitated tasks of staff accreditation, transportation, and operation, both at home and abroad."

The report brought out that upwards of 400 men from AP ranks had been called into the armed services, necessitating training of an unprecedented number of men and women new to press association work as replacements.

Yemen is often called the "Tibet of Arabia" because its people are hostile to Europeans.

LIQUOR RATIONS MAY BE INCREASED

Ohioans Likely To Get More Than Pint a Month.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 16 — Liquor drinking Ohioans may get more than that predicted pint-a-... program which state officials assert will be invoked in mid-May.

In fact, they may get a quart per month—if their drinking habits are anything like those of topplers in other similarly-affected states and if Buckeye statisticians' estimates on the impending ration plan are accurate.

A survey of six liquor monopoly states with rationing programs disclosed this today. Here's how it figures out:

Four of six other monopoly states employing rationing reported only 50 to 64 per cent of registered purchasers were buying liquor regularly. The percentage was higher in the other two states.

Statisticians estimated that if 2,500,000 Ohioans registered in the rationing program, details of which are expected to be announced soon, the initial allotment would be only a pint a month on the basis of supplies obtained in the past few months.

Liquor Director Don A. Fisher could be expected to double the pint-a-month allotment, they figured, if only 50 to 60 per cent of registrants purchased liquor in each ration period.

Iowa reports showed its 263,000 registrants averaged purchases of a pint weekly although the allowance is a quart a week.

Liquor purchases by Virginia's 900,000 registrants averaged 55 to 60 per cent and in North Carolina 64 per cent. Both are pint-a-week states. Utah allows a quart weekly but purchases average only 57 per cent.

Idaho officials estimated 95 per cent of registrants in the state's newly inaugurated rationing program were making purchases regularly while the state of Washington listed 700,000 registrations for its 2,000,000 population. Officials explained that service men stationed in the Pacific coast state probably swelled the total.

West Virginia's liquor control commission said liquor rationing would be started "in the very near future" but initial allotments were not announced.

MISS MAMIE GARVER OF NEAR CALEDONIA DIES

Passes Away Shortly After Entering Hospital.

Special to The Star

CALEDONIA, April 16—Miss Mamie Mildred Garver, 37, of three miles east of Caledonia on Edison, R. F. D., died yesterday in the Galion City hospital shortly after admittance. She had been ill three weeks and seriously ill one day. Death was caused from a heart ailment and complications.

Miss Garver was born June 28, 1905 in Claridon township to Edward and Emma Croft Garver. Her father died six years ago. Her mother is the only close relative surviving.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m., slow time, Saturday at the Timson Allen funeral home. Rev. Donald F. Lyons, pastor of the Kirkpatrick Methodist church, will officiate and burial will be made in the Caledonia cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Valuable Instruments To Be Used for Program

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 16—Music de luxe certainly should result when it is produced from instruments of that same category. So Paul Lavalle believes, for he is to direct a Sunday afternoon broadcast by a special string ensemble of 14 pieces, ten of which are violins and 'cellos made in the Sixteenth century by the famed Antonio Stradivari.

The instruments, obtained from various collections, have a total rated value of more than $150,000. The broadcast is scheduled for CBS at 1:30, with plans for another at a later date.

Cassidy, chief of The Associated Press bureau at Moscow and now in this country on vacation, is to be guest of commentator Roy Porter in his Sunday night broadcast at 8 on the BLU...Genevieve Rowe, soprano who sings in various programs and particularly as Jenny Lynn in the CBS Gay Nineties revue, will be away from the microphone for two weeks because of an appendix operation.

Officers Installed by V. F. W.

Harry G. Baker was installed as commander of Veterans Post No. 3315, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at a meeting of the post Wednesday night. He succeeds Nevil V. Foreman. Plans were made to take part in the annual Memorial Day exercises and the post also voted to support the civic improvement plans now in the hands of a committee headed by Robert T. Mason as chairman. Plans also were completed for sponsoring a benefit square dance to be held on April 30. The meeting was preceded by a dinner attended by district officers and auxiliary-men V. F. W. members and several guests, at the Barford cafeteria.

James Shuff of Dunkirk, commander of District No. 2, which includes Marion, presided for the installation ceremonies. Taking office with Commander Baker were Robert H. Stief, senior vice commander; Carlos H. Tuttle, junior vice commander; N. V. Foreman, quartermaster; F. A. Thurston, adjutant and color advocate; William Kehrwecker, chaplain; Dr. E. H. Morgan, surgeon; Richard Miller, officer of the day; Lloyd Schiller, historian; Paul D. Reynolds, service officer; Erwin Breithaupt, legislative chairman; Wallace Daly, Clyde Porter and Ivan Wellslager trustees for 18, 12 and 6 months respectively; Walter E. Mathod, sergeant-major; Clarence Gould, quartermaster-sergeant; Minor L. Hart, guard; Lindsey L. Ferrell, sentinel; T. F. Niles, national color bearer; F. W. Holloway, post color bearer; N. V. Foreman, publicity chairman.

Receives Gifts

The retiring commander was presented a past commander's pin by Commander Baker, and Commander Shuff presented him with a V. F. W. regulation necktie and clasp in recognition of his work in a membership contest when the membership roster of District No. 2 was increased five per cent through his efforts.

Occupying seats of honor on the stage were J. McNamee of Marysville, past district commander, E. M. Breithaupt, county commander of the American Legion, Edward Perry, commander of the Prospect post, Lester Eberhart, commander of the Kenton post, District Commander Shuff and William Kehrwecker. Guests were present from Delaware, Marysville and Dunkirk. Refreshments were served by Mr. Baker and James Uline, assisted by Mrs. Baker and N. V. Foreman.

HARRY G. BAKER

Mr. and Mrs. Foreman were hosts for the dinner which preceded the post meeting. The table was centered with a small American Flag and appointments were in a patriotic theme. Places were marked with miniature figures representing the armed forces. Guests included District Commander James Shuff of Dunkirk, Lester Eberhart of Kenton, P. H. Williams, adjutant of the Dunkirk post, L. H. Snyder also of Dunkirk, Harry G. Baker, retiring post adjutant and commander-elect, Quartermaster-elect Wallace Daly, James M. Cusick, patriotic instructor of District No. 2, William Kehrwecker, commander of Chapter No. 22, D. A. V., Frank Thurston, junior vice commander, Lloyd H. Schiller, Miss Edna S. Dutton and the host and hostess.

Mrs. Foreman, who is president of the post auxiliary, presented Mr. Foreman with a gold watch chain and charm with a V. F. W. emblem, and also presented Miss Dutton with a gift.

Dinner Group

Thirteen members were seated at the table which recalled to the host and hostess how the number 13 has been connected with their terms of office as heads of the post and auxiliary. Mr. Foreman carries membership card No. 13 in the post, the post number is 3315, Mr. and Mrs. Foreman live at 313 South Grand avenue and they had been married 13 years when they were elected to their offices last year. The number also has turned up on numerous other occasions during the last year and has always proved "lucky", Mr. Foreman recalled. The district commander, Mr. Shuff also carries membership card No. 13 in his post, he recalled.

The 1942-43 official year marks the first time that a husband and wife has served as head of the post and auxiliary at the same time.

The following committees were appointed by the commanders: membership, Robert H. Stief, N. V. Foreman, James E. Messenger, Russ Williams and M. Starks; ways and means, Carlos Tuttle, chairman, R. W. Miller, Wallace Daly, Dr. E. H. Morgan and F. A. Thurston; relief and welfare, John Monk and William Kehrwecker; Americanism chairman, Fred F. Miller; home committee, Ivo F. Hageman, chairman, Nevil V. Foreman, Wallace Daly; entertainment, Carl B. Kay, chairman; social, Vaus Ireland, chairman, John Monk and David Owens were named to serve as a committee for the annual Poppy sale and representing the post on the Memorial Day committee will be Robert H. Stief, F. W. Holloway, Paul D. Reynolds, E. M. Breithaupt and H. G. Baker. The retiring commander, N. V. Foreman served as aide for the installation.

Warning from Gen. MacArthur

GEN. MacArthur is leaving no room for doubt by the frequency of his warnings to this country that he expects the worst on the front for which he has responsibility.

The Japanese, he has said repeatedly, are massing for what may become a major assault on Australia. More air and ground strength will be needed to offset their apparent strategy.

Gen. MacArthur's warnings, which reach the American people directly from his headquarters without passing through the war department, carry a certain amount of implicit criticism of this government's grand strategy, which calls for a holding action in the Pacific, instead of an offensive. There is good reason to believe Gen. MacArthur is disappointed, as well as apprehensive; his statement on the anniversary of the surrender at Bataan clearly showed his disappointment.

The circumstances of his position in Australia, as he himself has chosen to describe them, are those of a commander insufficiently supplied to do what he considers essential and, therefore, in danger of defeat. This is vital public information that should be clearly understood, which presumably is the reason Gen. MacArthur has chosen to publicize what he feels is his predicament. Perhaps if he had publicized his predicament in the Philippines, when he was trying to get ready for a major assault that his government refused to believe in, Bataan and Corregidor wouldn't have happened, and the Japs wouldn't be hovering above Australia waiting for the right moment to drop for the kill.

A Young Man Goes West

NEW fields for service are being opened throughout the country as a consequence of the war, and the service is not all warlike in nature. Evidence of this development is found in the assignment given Rev. D. Allen Polen, pastor of the Methodist church at Edison, Morrow county. He is going to Oklahoma, where a new community known as Midwest City has sprung up near a recently established aircraft plant, and there he is to establish a new church and have a place of worship erected.

It is an important call for Rev. Polen and one for which he is obviously admirably adapted. He is only 29 years old and so is qualified for the undertaking from the standpoint of age. This is a form of modern pioneering, in which boundless energy and enthusiasm and capacity for long days of hard work are essential. These qualities are most effective in the earlier years of life and Rev. Polen at 29 is well within that period. His youth, along with his religion, should enable him to perform notable work in his new field.

Jim Thorpe's Medals

MARION county has more interest than the average community in the proposal to regain for Jim Thorpe the Olympic medals that are rightfully his. The great Indian athlete, as most of us know, was a resident of the county for several years, and it's something that we are proud to remember.

In the 1912 Olympics Thorpe established a record that stands without an equal, and this, along with his numerous other achievements in various branches of sports and athletics, has rated him in the minds of most authorities as the greatest athlete of all time. But just because he had received a few dollars for playing baseball before the time of his amazing Olympics performance it was decreed that he ranked as a professional and consequently was not entitled to the Olympic medals. So he gave them up.

Since then there have been occasional demands that the lost laurels be returned to him, but with no results. Possibly this latest movement, started in the Oklahoma legislature by two representatives of Thorpe's race, the American Indians, will come to the same conclusion. The chances are that such will be the outcome, but it's not likely the subject will be permanently dropped. Justice doubtless will come Thorpe's way some time but it should not be long delayed. Too often raw deals of this sort are not squared until the victim's life has closed. Needless to say, that doesn't mean much to the victim.

How Smart Is a Man?

DR. Albert Einstein apparently is going to get away with the candid observations he made about intellectuals on the radio last Sunday. As one of the best known of the breed, perhaps he can not be challenged.

Specifically, the doctor said that intellect must not be man's god because intellect can not lead and "is not fastidious in its choice of a leader . . . a characteristic reflected in the qualities of its high priests, the intellectuals."

There must be, in other words, something higher than a highly developed intelligence. There must be a goal, and the goal should be a community of "free and happy human beings who, by constant inward endeavor strive to liberate themselves from the inheritance of anti-social and destructive instincts."

Possibly this is the only complete answer to that well worn question: How smart is a man? A man is not very smart if he can't find a way to use his ability, whatever it is, without destroying his contemporaries.

News Behind the News

Administration's Post-War and Economic Policies Undergoing Change.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 16—The administration's post-war and economic policies seem to be changing—perhaps veering is a better word.

Often in the past, Mr. Roosevelt has used zoning, to aim toward his objectives, turning first to one side, then the other. The permanency of current symptoms of change is therefore not firmly established.

Under Secretary of State Welles, in his last speech, did not again mention an international police force," but spoke of "preserving peace by force," which is another thing.

Mr. Welles occupies a position greater than his title and is a consummate classicist in the use of diplomatic language. His moderation of phraseology, therefore, must be considered significant, especially as he is handling much of the duties of secretary of state these days.

This change reflects an inner realization down through government diplomatic authorities that developments of this war from now on will have more to do with making the post-war world than any words that can be said now.

If Russia manages to accomplish the victory, a wholly different set of peace circumstances may be presented than if the victory is wrought by Anglo-American action.

Some authorities like Navy Secretary Knox also are beginning to imply that it is more important for our post-war peace for the United States to hold bases in the Pacific than it is to enter upon pious pronouncements of brotherly love.

The island of Guadalcanal for which we are fighting so heartily is—few stop to think—a British possession. The airfield we have fought so valiantly to defend would normally become a British airfield at the secession of hostilities.

In the future air world, it is obvious that many Guadalcanals will be more essential to the security of our shores than any other factor.

British-Russian Understanding

Mr. Churchill, in his recent statements, has indicated Britain and Russia are getting more and more together. If this proves true in fact as well as word, another set of post-war circumstances will confront us.

There appears no truth to the rumors that Litvinoff might return home and thus offer us a Red diplomatic goodbye with gloved hand. Litvinoff has laughed off such suggestions, saying he can do more good here.

But certainly all these conditions make it evident the post-war world will be fixed by future negotiation, not by what Washington officials may have wanted in the first place.

Domestic Policies

The change in domestic economic policies of this government are clearer cut. The administration move to freeze prices and wages at long last now carries a ring of sincerity and determination.

It should have been done a year or more ago, but the New Deal economists desired to let wages run up, promising a freezing in the end. This now appears to be the end.

A peculiarly favorable political situation furnishes weight to Mr. Roosevelt's freezing intentions. The John L. Lewis wage increase demands and the senate sidetracking of farm bloc claims in the Bankhead bill have brought the AFL and, even somewhat reluctantly the CIO, into a new position of alarm against inflation.

Up to now, they have wanted to run wages up. But with the farm bloc holding over labor's head the power to increase prices (by passing the Bankhead and Pace bills in congress at any time), the President has been able to gather powerful labor and farm support for a firming of the anti-inflation policies.

P-38's Fame Grows

Officialdom knows nothing about Russia's post-war intentions than you do. Apparently there have been no conversations....The Lighting Interceptor (Lockheed P-38, twin Allison engines) plane has developed a reputation as a super plane in the Tunisian fighting. It climbs like its name, practically straight up, is faster, and has better protection than the Nazi ships, and is classed as maneuverable. Bugs have been ironed out. Pilots and war authorities class it with the Spitfire and Flying Fortress as one of the three outstanding planes of the war....

...MacArthur's Air General Kenny and others are supposed to be very much disappointed with their Washington plane mission. Production is enough to furnish them the ships, but the shipping situation is tight. They say the Japs are digging in everywhere in conquered territory, and will be very hard to get out if allowed to go on for some months.

Willkie's Book Reviewed

"One World" Story of His Earth-Circling Trip.

By JOHN SELBY
Associated Press Book Reviewer

THE really delightful book someone may have helped Wendell Willkie to write about his trip around the world is going to be promoted as something world-shaking. It is not that; it is the story of a modern and male Nellie Bly, defiant of distance and danger, very human in his boyish reaction to the things people showed him, and told him.

The book is important only because Mr. Willkie is a national figure. Things were made easy because President Roosevelt started him out, warned him against going to India, and apparently restricted him in no other way. People Mr. Willkie could not reach came to him—except General Chensult in China, who was busy trying to make too few planes do too big a job. Mr. Willkie gave up and drove out to see and be impressed by the General.

The former presidential candidate was entertained in Egypt, Asia Minor, Turkey, Russia, Siberia, Central Asia and at the generalissimo's headquarters in China. Nowhere was he restricted, even in Russia. Obviously, he could not do much first-hand research while covering the globe in 49 days. Obviously any sort of report must be superficial, too. Thirty-six hours is not enough for a country even if you talk continuously, and it sometimes shocks the reader to find the author making that pronouncement (on Egypt, for example, and Turkey) with less than the average tourist's acquaintance to go on.

Still, something useful comes out of all this. Mr. Willkie is a man of good will and insensibly he attracted similar men to him, the world 'round. He was completely outside two important orbits, British circles, and the colonial outposts of our Dutch and Fighting French allies. But he learned that the United Nations must at once announce their objectives, and that these must include guarantees of independence for the whole world. Although he does not specifically say so, Mr. Willkie believes the day of paternalism, however benevolent, is done. The thing lacking in "One World" is a recipe for eliminating it that will work.

Axis Movie Material

Activities in Occupied Countries Feed Hollywood.

By ROBIN COONS
Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 16—Underground activity in Nazi-occupied territory is proving such a rich source of dramatic material for the screen that you can look for the cycle to continue indefinitely. Practically all the major producing units are working on one or more picture with this theme, in addition to those already released.

This follows the familiar Hollywood pattern of one successful picture setting a trend, and the trailblazer in this cycle seems to have been RKO's "Joan of Paris," which introduced Michele Morgan, bonafide French refugee, and gave Paul Henreid, a Nazi-hating Austrian, his first real break.

The great danger at present seems to be overdoing the subject, wearing out its freshness. But lately there have been indications that the story departments have anticipated this repetition, and the settings, which at first concerned chiefly France and Norway, are becoming more varied.

"Natural" Story

Assassination of Reinhardt Heydrich proved such a natural as story material that both United Artists and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer turned out pictures on the subject, U.A. under the title "The Hangman Also Dies," already released, and Metro under the title of "Hitler's Hangman." U.A. made the most of its opportunities, holding the premiere at Prague, Okla., and getting a sendoff from Bohus Benes, consul-general for the Czech government-in-exile, and Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk. Brian Donlevy is considered to have done a particularly good job in the role of the man who shot Heydrich.

New in locale, too, are "Cheniks," recently released by Twentieth Century-Fox, which concerns Yugoslavia and "Assignment in Brittany," just finished by Metro, with Jean Pierre Aumont starred.

List of Titles

These titles, past, present and future, give you an idea of the extent to which the studios are tapping Europe for material.

"The Avengers," English-made, about Norway; "One of Our Aircraft Is Missing," United Artists release, set in Belgium; "The Moon Is Down," Twentieth Century-Fox, set in Norway; "Edge of Darkness," Warner Bros., set in Norway; "Commandos Strike at Dawn" and "Attack by Night," Columbia releases both set in Norway; "Above Suspician," Warner Bros., concerning an Englishman in Germany; "Appointment in Berlin," Columbia; "Reunion in France," a Metro story with Joan Crawford: "At Dawn We Die," English-made picture set in France; "The Purple V," a Republic picture about a flier forced down in Germany; "Hitler's Children," RKO, about an American girl brought up in Germany; "Casablanca," Warner picture set in Morocco, and "This Land Is Mine," an RKO picture in the making with Charles Laughton starred.

When you've seen all those, you'll know there's a war going on.

Safety in Bathtub

By The Associated Press

LONDON—Want a nice safe spot in an air raid? Try the bath tub.

This suggestion comes from London householders who have been reinvestigating the safe spots in their homes. They say the best natural shelter is the bath. So they are making their baths as bed-like as possible.

They point out that the bath is practically the only spot in a house that is almost always out of the direct line of the windows. It also acts as a dugout against "side attacks" and stray pieces of flying glass. Some advocates of bath "shelters" have even made wooden roofs for their tubs as further protection.

Recipe for Long Life

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—An ancient employe in the family of Kearney Wornall, Kansas City banker, has this recipe for longevity: "When I works, I works hard; when I sits, I sits easy; and when I worries, I just goes to sleep!"

In 1918 seven out of every thousand men discharged from the U. S. armed forces were released for psychiatric reasons. In 1942 the rate was four per thousand.

"Save your story for Willie. He won't go to sleep till he hears one!"

Sinus Sympathy

Friends from All Over Nation Proposed Remedies; Fresh Air Seems To Be Our Trouble.

By DAMON RUNYON

I AM OBLIGED to many of my readers for suggestions on how to eliminate sinus trouble. Some of them seem practical and all are interesting, even the one from the fellow in Chicago who says if you remain completely immersed from head to foot in fresh water for two days all sinus pain will disappear. He says this is what a coroner once told him.

C. B. Carter of Chicago also suggests water, but in a more modified form, and his is salt water. He tells me to try snuffing a solution of salt water but adds that this will be of little help if a sinus sufferer sleeps in a room in which the windows are left open as much as a little crack in any climate.

I would have to rely on the salt water-as much as I have not slept in a room with opened windows since the time Smacksie Maxie Rosenbloom, the noble gladiator of the leather-pushers, was flowering in all his fistic glory, and I investigated his training methods to learned the secret of his prowess. I believe that old Smacksie trained with all the windows tightly fastened and a fear of fresh air as a pestilence.

He had to work out in a private gymnasium because other gladiators used to swoon for lack of oxygen in the public places. Slapenpoop, as we sometimes called him, trained there. Our hero would emerge from the compartments in the very pink of condition, but of course the owner of public athletic dens objected to the training of the exponents of manly art of scrambling ears could not be solely to Smacksie, as he was inclined to disregard accounts rendered.

HE DID HIS road work in Broadway night clubs, which in those days were all hermetically sealed when they first opened for business and never afterwards admitted so much as free air, or anything else free, for that matter. I remember that the management of the Silver Slipper in the basement under the Paradise once discharged a dancer because she inadvertently whooshed her skirts in Smacksie's direction as she performed her terpsichorean duties and sent a breeze of ozone over him.

It set him back two weeks in his training for Phil K. O. Kaplan. Of course the management was a little sore at the dame, anyway for wearing a skirt, but it shows how susceptible Smacksie was to air. I recall that when he went from his private airy atelier to the battle arena to win the lightheavyweight title from Jimmy Slattery, he held his breath all the way lest the noxious fumes of the outdoors impair his stamina.

He lost the title to Bob Olin some years later only because a crafty admirer of Olin's turned on the air conditioning in Madison Square Garden in the thirteenth round that November night. The air, synthetic though it was, slowed Smacksie down to nothing. The flush of outdoor health faded from his cheeks in a trice. Olin went around him like a barrel around a herring.

IN THE MEANTIME, I had adopted the Rosenbloom practice of eschewing open windows. What was good enough for a guy who could lick Slattery was good enough for me. I attribute my former stalwart physique to this practice. If you sleep with your windows closed you will not waste so much time lying in bed and waking on winter mornings thinking of getting up to close 'em.

The only way I can account for my present trouble is that I must have forgotten to wind up the keyhole in my sleeping apartment one night and the climate sneaked in and so on. I saw Smacksie Maxie Rosenbloom recently. He looked great. He does not have sinus trouble. You can write your own ticket that Smacksie never forgets to plug the keyhole.

The recent tax battle in the house of representatives has brought to the mind of many a remark of the late Henry T. Rainey, once speaker of the house.

"I have been on the ways and means committee for 20 years," said Rainey. "I think I know all that any congressman could possibly learn about taxes and I can sum it up in several words. Taxation is the fine art of plucking the most feathers from the goose with the fewest squawks."

But the wisdom of an expert on the subject could not keep the majority in the house from defeating a proposal to make upward of 40,000,000 taxpayers pay their obligation on income taxation as they earned the money instead of waiting until the next March 15.

Commodores

The most familiar title in naval rank—commodore—had disappeared until its restoration recently by congress. It corresponds to the army rank of brigadier general and fits in just above rear admiral and above captain.

Authorized from 1862 to 1899 as a permanent grade, it belonged to many early naval officers by virtue of general recognition as a courtesy title, being in that respect more dignified than captain, the highest grade in the navy until the Civil war. However, by common consent the senior officer in charge of two or more vessels at one time was called a commodore.

The commodore grade rates a single star on the shoulder.

Italians Strengthen Defense of Islands

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 16—Premier Mussolini was reported by the Berlin radio today to have declared Sicily, Sardinia and smaller islands at Italy's southern flank as an area of military operations in a move interpreted here as throwing up defenses hastily against expected allied attack.

The action was preceded by a shakeup of the Italian police, which some London observers said was an attempt to deal with potential slackers and saboteurs who might impair the defense of Italy. The Italian premier acted in his capacity as commander-in-chief.

The Moscow radio said a state of emergency had been declared in Sardinia following discovery of an "anti-government organization working to disrupt the military measures of the Italian-German command." Three arrests were reported.

...and independent boss of civilian supply headed toward a senate test with newly acquired labor support, while opposition developed from WPB quarters with announcement of a new appointee to take over just that task.

WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson announced Arthur D. Whiteside, president of Dun and Bradstreet, financial reporting firm, would succeed Joseph L. Weiner as vice chairman in charge of civilian supply—and Weiner had supported the legislation to divorce that job from WPB. Nelson strongly opposes it, but senate advocates saw the CIO's support as another point indicating a favorable report on the measure now being considered by the banking committee.

The food conference question saw congress indirectly joining forces with capital correspondents as the senate agriculture group demanded that some of its members be permitted to attend the sessions scheduled to begin at Hot Springs, Va., May 18. Senator Aiken (R-Vt) said in unanimously moving to confer with state department officials to arrange attendance, committee members felt they should know just what commitments are being made for American agriculture.

Farm Bill Debate

Another fight grew more heated as the house waded into its third day of debate on the $707,040,844 agriculture department's appropriation bill with the rules committee standing pat in its refusal to help save the measure from threatened legislative mayhem. The agriculture committee had fought successfully for a point-of-order floor procedure by which it could battle some of the appropriations committee's clauses cutting farm benefits—but there was indication that the rule might boomerang and strip the measure of many provisions on purely parliamentary grounds. For the second time in two days, the rules committee refused to change the procedure.

Eleven Fliers Killed in Florida Plane Crash

FORT MYERS, Fla., April 16—Eleven Army fliers were killed late yesterday when a twin-engined advanced training plane crashed at Buckingham field near here, public relations officers announced today.

The plane was returning to the field after a routine gunnery mission over the range just off Fort Myers Beach. It crashed and burst into flames only a few hundred feet from a plane parking area, but none of the other aircraft was damaged.

Miners Stay Out In Deferment Protest

By The Associated Press

BELLAIRE, O., April 16—Unionists at the Rail and River Coal company's No. 2 mine will remain on strike until four employes granted Army draft deferments are fired or resign, Secretary James Monroe of the United Mine Workers' local reported today.

Monroe said strikers voted last night to remain away from the pit in protest to deferment of two mechanics and two outside foremen. Mine operations have been halted since about 400 miners walked out Monday.

Mine Supt. John Maloney said 117 employes already had been drafted and that the company requested the deferments because the quartet could not be replaced from available help. He said a total of eight employes of the firm's three mines in the area had been granted deferment.

Bring Up Artillery

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army meanwhile was reported bringing up artillery to the line stretching westward from Enfidaville, about 50 miles south of Tunis, where Rommel apparently has chosen to make his fight. Field dispatches reported enemy batteries in the mountain positions were making progress difficult for the Eighth army.

(The Berlin radio reported yesterday that British commando troops attempted to land behind axis lines in the Cape Serrat area, 35 miles from Bizerte, Wednesday night. The broadcast, recorded by The Associated Press, said axis batteries opened fire when the commandos reached certain coastal obstacles and added "the British withdrew to their boats which, despite several hits, succeeded in escaping.")

The U. S. Army air forces said traffic into the important port of Ferryville at the southwestern end of Lake Bizere had ceased as a result of bombings. Every building in the dock area and four of the six known oil storage tanks in that area were said to have been destroyed or made useless.

House Leaders Meet To Draft Tax Plan

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16—House Republican leaders supporting the skip-a-tax-year plan and Democrats opposing it launched a joint effort today, under the leadership of Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex), to reach a compromise on pay-as-you-go income tax legislation.

The bi-partisan effort to settle the embattled issue developed at a morning conference in Rayburn's office attended by house Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts, Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts, Chairman Doughton (D-NC) and members of the house ways and means committee.

Rayburn said afterward:

"We're going to try to forget the Ruml plan (first to embody the skip-a-year idea) and all other plans, and then sit down and try to work out something that will be acceptable to all concerned."

Martin told newspapermen "we had a little conference to see if it was possible to reach a compromise."

ARMY JEEP MAKERS END TOLEDO STRIKE

Axle Plant Workers Vote To End Walkout.

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., April 16—A strike that halted assembly line production of Army jeeps was ended today.

Frank Rossiter, unit chairman of the CIO-United Automobile Workers at the Spicer Manufacturing Co. here, said 150 strikers voted last night to return to work and vote later on whether to ask the international UAW to authorize a strike.

The Spicer firm manufactures axles for jeeps assembled here at Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., and Joseph W. Frazer, president of Willys-Overland, said the one-day walkout at Spicer stalled his plant's assembly line and left 2,500 workers idle. He said production on the line, which normally is inactive on Saturdays and Sundays, would be resumed Monday.

The walkout of employes in the heat-treating and forge departments grew out of a wage dispute that had been certified to the war labor board, R. E. Carpenter, Spicer's executive vice president, reported.

Union spokesmen, declining to be identified, said it stemmed from an attempt of non-production workers to enforce demands for bonus payments similar to those paid production employes.

Frederick H. Bullen, the regional WLB's disputes director, said at Cleveland that heat-treating and forge department workers of Spicer had demanded increases in addition to a 5-cent hourly raise recommended by a WLB referee and now pending before the board in Washington. Bullen said the one-day walkout had nothing to do with the prospective increase.

THREE CHILLICOTHE, O., PAPERS TO CONSOLIDATE

Newsprint Shortage and Manpower Situations Are Reasons.

By The Associated Press

CHILLICOTHE, O., April 16—Consolidation of Chillicothe's morning, afternoon and Sunday newspapers, effective April 19, was announced today by Merritt C. Speidel, president, and J. K. Hunter, publisher of Chillicothe Newspapers, Inc.

The morning paper, the News-Advertiser, and the Sunday publication, the Ohioan, will be consolidated with the Gazette, which will continue publishing each evening, Monday through Saturday, for the war's duration, the announcement said.

The management said the move was prompted by "changing economic conditions due to the war, loss of personnel and the rationed supply of newsprint." It added it hoped to publish the News-Advertiser as a morning newspaper again after the war.

The News-Advertiser was established in 1831, the Ohioan in 1938. The Gazette is one of the oldest newspapers west of the Alleghany mountains. It was established in 1800.

TOLEDO, O., April 16—Vice President J. F. Public Naturally Confused by Talk of Pacific Threat

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The divergence of views as expressed in Washington and in Australia regarding the danger of a Jap invasion of that great continent leaves the American public in an unfortunate state of doubt and consequently apprehension.

It's really an amazing story. First off we get from Australian sources a startling picture of 200,000 Nipponese massed and ready to invade as soon as they regain air control. Our Secretary of the Navy Knox counters with the view that there's no indication the Japs have the shipping to move so many men. An allied spokesman in Australia reports that a great Japanese combat fleet is massed in the Truk area "within three days' sailing distance of New Guinea."

Washington military authorities at this point intervene with the view that Japanese operations have passed from the offensive stage to one of "aggressive defense." They say there's little danger the Nipponese will attempt to strike against Australia or any other important United Nations bastion.

Stimson Quiets Turmoil

Here Secretary of War Stimson steps in and pours oil on the troubled waters by promising a constantly increasing flow of planes and other supplies to General MacArthur. The secretary says that vigorous public officials in areas close to the war would be remiss if they failed to press their demands.

That last sentence may give us a clew to our mystery. All this argument is coincident with the new Australian drive for more air power from the United States. You can't blame a puzzled public therefore if it wonders whether a high pressure advertising campaign is on.

However that may be, the American people never questioned the need of building up allied strength in the Pacific as rapidly as feasible. Secretary Stimson's promise of increasing aid will be warmly welcomed here.

We Still Need Time

Still, the uncomfortable fact remains that the allies are incapable at this juncture of waging all-out offensives against enemies in both Europe and Asia at the same time. We haven't the equipment as yet for such widely separated operations. It's only in recent months that we have been able to amass enough strength to begin to take Herr Hitler for a ride.

There's no indication the allied high command has any intention of altering its basic strategy of knocking out Hitler first, or at least rendering him impotent, before trying to put the full heat on Japan. That strategy isn't a matter of inclination but of necessity. It was imposed on the high command by a circumstance over which they had no control, namely, a Nazi strength which threatened to conquer all Europe quickly and then span the Atlantic.

We have here another proof of the soundness of the old adage that you shouldn't change horses in the middle of the stream. If the allies should at this critical juncture divert any considerable amount of their striking power from Europe, in order to hit Japan, they might be handing Hitler a free ticket to victory.

Still a Question

We now have the battle of the Mediterranean—of which the Tunisian campaign is just one phase—well in our favor. But the scales there haven't swung so violently our way they couldn't be counter-balanced. If we weakened ourselves greatly in that theater Hitler might stage a come-back, and we have to keep in mind what has been emphasized so often in this column, that he who controls the Mediterranean zone wins the war.

The logical thing now is for the allies to pile it onto the Nazi all highest until he is crushed—and do it as fast as possible. Certainly we must get at Japan soon, for the position there is dangerous and every day the Japs have for consolidation adds to that danger. We also must divert as much strength as feasible to the southwest Pacific. But it looks now as if our job there for the moment must be largely an aggressive holding operation.

JAPS MASS NORTH OF AUSTRALIA. A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur has warned of Japanese forces—sea, land and air—concentrated at bases within striking distance of Darwin, port city on Australia's "invasion coast." In addition to war fleet concentrations at Truk, 250,000 tons of merchant shipping are at Rabaul, New Britain, he said. Other key bases at Palau, Manila and Soerabaja are within easy striking distance of the 2,500-mile battle line enveloping the upper half of Australia.

OWI ISSUES REPORT ON FOOD SITUATION

Action Follows Resignation of 15 Davis Aids.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16 — An office of war information prediction that American civilians face various shortages in a "serious food situation" drew nationwide attention today, underscored by the recent resignation of 15 OWI writers who indicated they felt the food report was either not strong enough or not issued soon enough.

After an extensive survey of national prospects, OWI reported that "conservatively and roughly estimated, and assuming average weather, civilians will have about 3 per cent more food (this year) than in the pre-war years but about 8 per cent less than 1942," although stating that more will be produced.

However, the OWI pointed out home front food prospects were governed by many factors not completely predictable. Director Elmer Davis said the report had been held up since January because of differences between federal agencies over the facts.

It also was the subject of controversy within the OWI staff itself, members indicated, with those who resigned issuing a statement that they left "because of our conviction that it is impossible for us to tell the truth."

Jap Power Station Bombed in Solomons

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16—American bombers battering Japanese positions in the central Solomon Islands Thursday destroyed a building believed to be a power generating station and sank an 80-foot vessel, the Navy announced today.

In the North Pacific, meanwhile, heavy raids on Kiska island continued. A communique said that the enemy base there was attacked eight times Wednesday and hits were scored in the camp area, damaging an airplane runway and revetments built to protect aircraft on the ground.

SACK DROPS FROM SKY

By The United Press

ALTOONA, PA. — Walter E. Piper had heard of air mail service but he was overwhelmed when a pouch of mail dropped out of the sky into his backyard in the early morning. Piper learned later that fasteners on an air mail pickup plane accidentally loosened and released the sack.

Record of Gov. Dewey Impresses New York State

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., April 16—Although Governor Dewey of New York chose to bow out of the Republican presidential nomination race, he still figures prominently on the thinking of political observers for 1944, particularly if a deadlock among other leaders happens to arise in the G.O.P. convention.

Since lack of administrative experience was one of the chief criticisms of Mr. Dewey when he ran for the Republican presidential nomination in 1940, political observers will be carefully scrutinizing his record as governor and administrator in New York state.

Gov. Dewey

On that score Gov. Dewey has made an auspicious start. He successfully got through the legislature all major bills which he endorsed, put into effect the state's first re-apportionment since 1917, revised and reformed the state income tax system, worked out a farm and food program for the state, and was able to announce recently a substantial increase in the treasury surplus.

In Office Short Time

Although he has been in office less than four months, nearly half of the voters of the state consider him as either an outstanding or better-than-average governor. In the number who so regard him, Gov. Dewey rates far above the average for the other 47 governors of the nation.

As part of a series of political studies in individual states, the Institute has asked a cross-section of the New York voting population in all sections of the state how they would rate Mr. Dewey as a governor on the basis of his record thus far.

Below is the vote in New York State compared with the average for the country in a national survey on the same basis.

"What kind of a job would you say the governor of your state is doing?"

	N. Y. Vote on Dewey	Avg. Attitude on All Governors in U. S.
Outstanding	26%	17%
Better than average	15	14
Average	31	42
Poor	4	8
No Opinion	24	19

Bricker Compared

Earlier this week the Institute reported a similar study concerning another state governor who is also being talked about for 1944—Gov. Bricker of Ohio.

Because of the difference in the length of period served — Gov. Bricker now being in his third term as governor—probably no direct comparison can be made between the ratings of Mr. Bricker and Mr. Dewey by the people of their respective states. In Ohio Gov. Bricker is considered outstanding or better than average by 47 per cent, whereas in New York 41 per cent feel the same way about Mr. Dewey.

Presidential Material

Despite Gov. Dewey's announcement recently that he is not a candidate for 1944, a majority of voters in New York state continue to regard him favorably as presidential material.

Throughout the state interviewers for the Institute questioned Democratic, Republican and Independent voters to determine how many look favorably or unfavorably on their governor as a presidential possibility.

This questioning brought out the following results:

All Voters
Favorable	52%
Unfavorable	32
Unfam. or No Opinion	16

Among Republicans only, the favorable vote for Mr. Dewey is considerably higher. Throughout the entire country a recent Institute survey found that 69 per cent of rank and file Republican voters regard him favorably as a presidential possibility. Among New York state Republicans the favorable vote is approximately the same.

ATHENS MARINE OFFICER IS AWARDED MEDAL

Decorated for Saving Flier in Solomons.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16—Second Lieutenant Wallis E. Hoaf, U.S.M.C., of Athens, O., who rescued a stranded pilot in the Solomon Islands area last November 15, has been awarded the Navy and Marine Corps medal.

The rescue, under hostile fire, was effected, Navy Secretary Frank Knox for President Franklin D. Roosevelt, said.

"Realizing the crash boats were unable after observing the plane's plunge, Lieutenant Hoaf swam through a choppy sea in a Mae West, reached the injured flyer and towed him safely to the beach."

The citation said that Lieutenant Hoaf's "alert presence of mind and timely action undoubtedly saved the life of [illegible] otherwise might have perished."

The Navy and Marine Corps medal was recently authorized for acts of heroism performed outside actual warfare.

Yanks Look Bad; But They'll Win

AP Writer Calls Team Worst Ever Led by Joe McCarthy.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 16—[illegible] Yankees this year are the worst-looking team Joe McCarthy has managed in the big leagues, yet everybody is picking the mighty American league pennant, and there is no doubt [illegible] the majority isn't right.

You only have to look over the Yanks in spring training to realize the changes war has wrought on baseball. If you can stop shuddering long enough to look at them twice, or three times, you start naming over their rivals in the hope of finding some other prominent possibility.

The Yankees have only one regular infielder, Joe Gordon, and one regular outfielder, Charley (King Kong) Keller, back from last year and as a result McCarthy is having to make over a whole ball club for the first time in his life. He is transforming Pitcher John Lindell into an outfielder, making a third baseman out of a rookie shortstop, Bill Johnson, and transforming another rookie second baseman, Gerry Priddy, into a shortstop.

Team Pieced Together

As of now, pieced together, the Yankee infield is patently. But in another month Frank Crosetti will be free of the suspension imposed upon him by Comm. Kenesaw Landis for pushing an umpire in the World Series and there is a possibility Red Ruffing may rejoin the club in the summer after his season as baseball coach at Yale ends.

The Yankees have lost Joe DiMaggio and Tom Henrich from the outfield, Buddy Hassett and Phil Rizzuto from the infield and Red Ruffing from the pitching staff. Yet other clubs have been hit equally as hard.

The Boston Red Sox should finish second, just as they have in four of the last five years. Manager Joe Cronin has had to give up his entire outfield—Ted Williams, Dominic DiMaggio and Lou Finney—as well as shortstop Johnny Pesky, the leading rookie of the league a year ago, and two good pitchers, Bill Butland and Charley (Broadway) Wagner. However, Cronin still has a dangerous club.

Whether the Sox make a battle for the pennant depends on the outfield and particularly on old

OHIOAN KNOCKED OUT

By The Associated Press

YORK, Pa., April 16 — Eddie White of Johnstown, Pa., knocked out Johnny Beck of Youngstown, O., in 14 seconds of the second round of their bout here last night.

"Fleet" Eligible for 53rd Running of Preakness Race

By The Associated Press

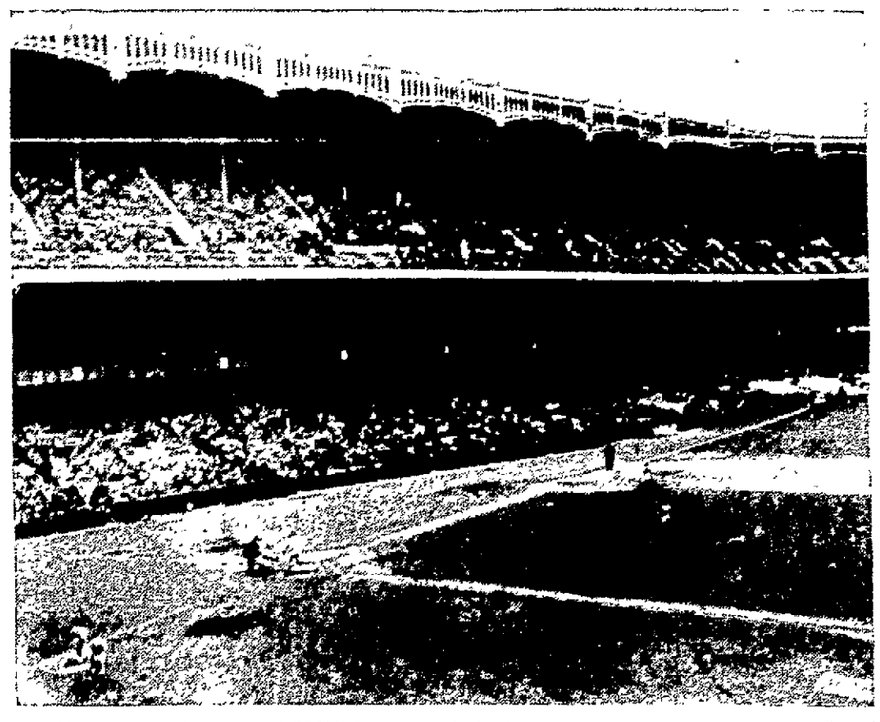
BALTIMORE, April 16—Count Fleet was eligible today to start in the 53rd running of the $50,000-added Preakness stakes, climactic feature of the closing program of a 20-day race meeting which opens at the Pimlico race course today.

Maryland Jockey club officials announced the Count's owner, Mrs. John D. Hertz of Chicago, had paid the $1,500 fee required to make the speedy son of Reigh Count eligible for the second leg of the traditional triple crown race classics for three-year-olds.

The count, shortest-priced winner book favorite for the Kentucky derby on record, was not among the 40 colts originally named for the Preakness, which will be run May 8.

Meanwhile, Pimlico officials anxiously watched today's attendance and mutuel handle for some initial indication of the success or failure of the spring meeting, which is the only racing Maryland will see this season. Most fans were forced to rely on trolley service.

SPORTS
THE MARION STAR



SPRING'S HERE. A crowd of 35,301 fans, one of the largest ever to see a spring exhibition, is pictured above in Yankee stadium, New York, watching the first game of a charity double-header. In the opener, the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Yankees, 6 to 1, and, in the nightcap, the Flatbushers edged the Giants, 1 to 0. (International Soundphoto.)

Ohio Sports Chatter

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O., Apr. 16—Instituting a new fifth freedom of our own (the right to clip a quip) we present herewith from the columns of Ohio sports scribes a few bon mots and what not's.

With the sports program dwindling, and the second war bond drive growing, the fun-loving sports editors have adopted a slogan adaptable to both the necessary bond drive and their practically unnecessary jobs.

The slogan: "We'll Give Everything But Up!"

Here are the guest stars, and their star jests:

* * *

Pete Minego, Portsmouth Times: They've changed that old story about the traveling salesman and the farmer's daughter. The new version, since rationing, is that the salesman married the farmer's daughter for butter or wurst. We never sausage a joke. (The old version had its points too, Pete, and I don't mean rationing.)

* * *

Frank B. Ward, Youngstown Vindicator: The Phillies have completed spring training—owner Bill Cox and trainer Harold Bruce are in good shape. (Looks like the Phillies have no more chance in the national loop than a filly has in the derby—where only one (Regret, 1915) has copped the roses in some 63 years.)

* * *

James E. Doyle, Cleveland Plain Dealer: You can write your Kentucky derby story right now, and in just three words—"the fleets in!" (Yeh, you can't Count Fleet out of that top spot—but if the odds stay at 4-5 we'll put our two bucks in war stamps, a sure winner in the human race.)

* * *

Paul Horning, Columbus Dispatch: Hugh McGranahan, OSU assistant coach, sat outside the Buck dressing rooms as Ohio's all-novice grid 'aspirants' trotted one by one to the practice field. Mac hardly recognized any of 'em. Then Les Horvath, last year's right halfback, looking like a lost sheep among all the new lambs, appeared. Mac's face lighted, and he said: "Les, why don't you trot in and out a couple more times so I'll think there are more of you?" (Yeh, dental student Horvath can fill a huge cavity in that backfield.)

* * *

Rex Hess, Mansfield News-Journal: It took a war to do it, but at last I've heard a bowling bug admit his favorite sport isn't the most important thing in the world. This explains the dazed look I'm wearing these days. Now if I can get a golf bug to admit the same, I'll know the war has come to Mansfield. (A lot of these bowlers, Rex, have shifted from the alleys to the allies—and are still knocking 'em over.)

* * *

Paul Creger, Upper Sandusky Chief-Union: Small town sports, except among the high schools, are out for the duration. But we'll have plenty of sport around here this summer, listening to the howls our city cousins put up about transportation difficulties and the absence of DiMaggios. (No transportation problem in the cities this year, Paul. The fans will spend the summer "riding" the umpires, as usual.)

* * *

Frank Y. Grayson, Cincinnati Times-Star: The draft at least has taken from the big league managers the worry of cutting their squads down to the player limit. (Certainly they'll find it easier to cut the excess beef off their teams than to cut the beef on the table, if it's anything like we're getting here.)

* * *

There you are—the puns of the weak—and we don't blame you if you decide that all the jokesters have gone to war.

Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press

BROOKLYN—The high-flying Brooklyn Dodgers cross the river again today to battle the New York Giants, whom they defeated Wednesday, 1 to 0. The veteran Curt Davis, who has been on the shelf with a thumb fracture suffered early in the training season, is scheduled to report for duty and may see his first mound action.

* * *

NEW YORK—Idle yesterday and with only a workout scheduled today, the New York Yankees approach the season's opener with a pitching staff suffering from lack of work. Only two chuckers have hurled as much as nine innings against major and minor league opposition, and Spurgeon Chandler seems to be the only one ready to go a full game.

* * *

BOSTON—Three cancellations in three days have the Braves pitching staff upset and Casey Stengel is worried about lack of work for Tobin, Barrett, Andrews and Jefcoat. None has gone more than six innings and Stengel figures he may have to use two a game.

* * *

ST. LOUIS—Cardinal Manager Billy Southworth will try Mort Cooper for the full nine innings today in the fourth game of the city series with the Browns, and hints it is a tuneup for a probable opening-day assignment against the Reds next Wednesday.

* * *

MUNCIE, Ind.—Having jumped to a 2-1 lead in the series with the Tigers, Manager Frankie Frisch of the Pirates planned to use Hank Gornicki and Bobby Klinger today, if Hank's cold permits.

JOE STILL HAS EYE

SANTA ANA, Calif., April 16—Pvt. Joe DiMaggio's spring training has been somewhat different this year and not much time is devoted to baseball at Santa Ana Army air base, where he is stationed, but the Yankee Clipper hasn't lost his batting eye. In five games Joe has pounded out six hits from 18 official times at bat.

Snatches of Sports

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

(Pinch Hitting for Flu-Stricken Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.)

CHICAGO, April 15 — Norman Ross, at the age of 47, is going back to war as an instructor in the Army flight command to join his two sons, both headed for Army aviation. His dog, a Belgian shepherd pooch, already is in the service. His wife, above the age limit for the WAACS, is storming because she can't go, too.

Both sons previously had learned to fly. Their dad, owner of a plane, taught them.

No remember Norman Ross? Recollect a minute.

He was the original human fish, first of the world's deadly great modern swimmers. In the period between 1917 and 1922, Ross held almost all of the world's aquatic records from a quarter of a mile to a mile and a half. At one time he held 17 national championships. He smashed the quarter mile record 12 times. He reigned supreme until another great swimmer, Johnny Weissmueller, came along in 1922.

Ross served in the first World war as a pursuit pilot with Maj. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle. Ross, powerful and strapping, had to melt off 22 pounds in eight days to make the 228 pounds for the aviation service. He starts a six weeks officers' training course at Miami, Fla., next Saturday.

And he's tossing up a $25,000-a-year radio newscasting job to do his chores for Uncle Sam. His booming bass voice, heard from Chicago stations for the past 12 years, will be missing from the airlanes for a while.

* * *

Today's Guest Star — Warren Brown, Chicago Sun: "The national football league is to have another meeting on June 19 at which time, I have no doubt, everything will be cleared up. At that time we all may even find out why there was a meeting held in April."

Alberta raised a sugar beet crop estimated at 371,000 tons last year, compared with less than 35,000 tons in 1941, about half of the seed coming from Oregon.

BAGBY'S CONDITION BEGINS TO WORRY INDIAN MANAGER

Boudreau Hoped To Let His Pitcher Work 7 Innings Before Opener.

By The Associated Press

MIDDLETOWN, O., April 16—As the Cleveland Indians neared here for an exhibition game today with the Cincinnati Reds, manager Lou Boudreau was concerned about getting Jim Bagby in shape to face the Reds on contest against Detroit next Wednesday.

Cancellation of their scrubbed tussle with the Reds at Dayton yesterday was the fourth such occurrence in the last four days.

The relentless cancellations have forced the Tribe pilot to revise his pitching plans. He had hoped to give each of his five or six most important hurlers a seven-inning tune against the National leaguers but with that arrangement shot to pieces with only three games of the barnstorming trip left.

(Turn to BAGBY, Page 13)

Bowling

Grace Gunder rolled a 232 game to lead the Ladies' All Star league at the Marion Recreation Center Wednesday night while the Universal Cooler loop toppled the maples on the same lanes.

Following Miss Gunder in the single game scoring column in the Ladies' loop were Chapman with 192, Snyder with 191, Hintze with 174, and Reams with 173.

Topping the Universal Cooler bowlers was Penhallow, who chalked up a 234 effort. E. Jones seconded him with 201 with Hanovich rolling 196.

The individual three-game-series in the two Wednesday night loops follow:

187-Pound Star Wins Over Heavie Foes in Armory Battle Royal Mat Sho

Rene LaBell, in winning over five other contenders in a wrestling battle royal program at the Armory last night, proved a small package can contain a lot of dynamite.

The 187-pound French-Canadian gave away as much as 16 pounds and as little as five pounds in triumphing in the all-star attraction. Teaming [illegible] LaChappell to dispose of Fred Carone, Buddy Knox, Nick Billins and Morris Shapiro, in that order, LaBell then proceeded to stop his fellow Canadian.

In the battle royal event Fred Carone, the portly Bostonian, dropped out of action after a two-minute stand. Buddy Knox, whose fine local record was shot to shreds as a result of a poor showing last night, followed four minutes later. The Birmingham, Ala., Greek, Nick Billins, veteran of dozens of Armory engagements, was third and Morris Shapiro, New York City Adonis, followed after less than 10 minutes of fighting.

The semi-final event, pairing Billins and Shapiro provided an appreciative gathering of fans 31 minutes of hard fighting, enough roughness to make it interesting and a goodly amount of questionable tactics all supplied by aged Greeks.

Shapiro used the waist-lock step over toe hold to win the fall in 15 minutes despite a series of unorthodox actions on the part of Billins. Shortly after the start of the second fall Billins repeated his first fall procedure but this time used both Shapiro and Referee Al Cook of [illegible] as targets. Billins struck Cook [illegible] several times and [illegible] was disqualified for unnecessary roughness.

In true wrestling fashion, Shapiro refused to accept the referee's decision and he whaled into Billins with new fury. The fall ended in 15 minutes.

While the main-go event was a fine show of speed, maneuverability and sportsmanship, for all-in wrestling interest the semi-final event was tops by a wide margin.

LaChappell won the opening fall in 11 minutes an airplane spin and a scissor grip. LaBell came back to win the last two falls and the match, copping the second in five minutes with a kick in the face and a body press and actually the all-important third canto in four minutes by reversing a single arm scissor hold.

Trainmen's Auxiliary Votes To Buy War Bond

It was voted to purchase another $100 bond during the present war bond drive at a meeting of Whitney Lodge, No. 846, auxiliary to Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, at the Legion Dugout yesterday afternoon. A gift of money was voted to Mrs. Clara ...Bradley of Columbus, grand president of the auxiliary, for a fund she is sponsoring to purchase an ambulance to be donated to the Red Cross for war relief. This will be the second donation of an ambulance to the Red Cross the auxiliary has made since the start of the war. A sum of money was also voted to be contributed to the maintenance fund of the auxiliary home, Lake Oak Villa, at Evanston, Ill.

LEARNS ABUT BEES

By The United Press

SAN JOSE, CALIF.—Patrolman Doug Daley has learned how to be a bee expert—the hard way. When a call came to the fire department for Capt. Carl O'Dell, the fire company's bee expert, to come and corral a swarm of bees, he said he would come after he had finished his dinner. Patrolman Daley decided the captain probably would be a long time eating and undertook the job himself. He succeeded beautifully except for the few that escaped and stung him. But now, he says, he knows how to prevent escapes.

NO. 5 FOR HIM. War is becoming an old story to Corp. John L. Whitton, 65, above, for whom this one is the fifth. He is stationed at Camp Stoneman, California, and has three children in service, two boys overseas and a daughter in the Army nurse corps. Whitton's son works as a parachute maintenance repairwoman at Fort Benning, Ga. This is an official Army Signal Corps photo.

Three Changes in Universal Cooler Key Personnel Announced Today

W. W. HIGHAM

E. A. LANGWISH

* * *

Three changes among the key personnel of the Universal Cooler Corp. were announced today.

W. W. Higham, who has been chief engineer and who is the company's oldest employe in point of service, has been made vice president in charge of engineering by action of the directors. Mr. Higham soon will receive the company's first 15-year service pin. He and Mrs. Higham and their daughter, Geraldine, live at 581 King avenue. They have made their home in Marion since the company moved to Marion from Detroit.

E. A. Langwish has been elected treasurer of the company to succeed A. M. Penhallow, who resigned. Mr. Langwish returns to a position he left less than a year ago when he resigned to join the Bendix Aviation Corp. in Detroit. He and Mrs. Langwish and their daughters, Jean and Lodine, expect to move back to Marion in the near future.

Another change brings a new member of the organization to Marion, Fay Adkinson, who has arrived to undertake new special assignment duties. He has a 28-year background in refrigeration, automotive and aircraft industries. From 1915 to 1923 he was with the Braun-Lipe Chapin Co. in Syracuse, N. Y., as general tool supervisor and service manager, then for six years was with the Chrysler corporation in Detroit on new developments. After returning to the Syracuse firm for two years as sales and service manager, he went with Kelvinator three years for special assignments on quality and later with the New Process Gear Co. as chief metallurgist in charge of quality control in aircraft production. He is 46 years old. Mrs. Adkinson will join him in Marion in the near future. They are parents of one son, an architect in Washington, D. C.

Minister Speaks At Meeting of P.-T.A.

In a meeting of the Glenwood Parent-Teachers association yesterday afternoon at the school Rev. Marvin Lewis was guest speaker, and Mrs. Imogene Russell sang, accompanied by Miss Marguerite Gehring and Mrs. Lewis presented a read. The sixth grade, taught by Miss Marjorie Smith, won the banner for having the most parents present. A mother-daughter tea will be held May 3 and new officers will be in charge of a meeting.

"Tableau" To Feature Service at Citadel

A "ghost story in tableau form" will be presented tonight by Mrs. Major W. W. Hinshaw of Winchester, Ind., in a service in the Salvation Army citadel at 7:45. Major and Mrs. Hinshaw opened a series of special meetings in the citadel last week. Last night Major Hinshaw spoke and Wednesday night Mrs. Hinshaw spoke on the Bible passage "In hell he lifted up his eyes in torment," portraying "the awful experience of Dives who by his own folly and rejection of God and the truth found his soul consigned to that awful abyss."

"All who continue in their deliberate sinful way will experience the same awful end," she declared. Tomorrow night Major Hinshaw will discuss the question of "The Anti-Christ," illustrating with a large chart. Mrs. Hinshaw will speak Sunday night on "An Appointment That Every Person Must Keep." Services are open to the public. Last night Mrs. Adjt. Ward and a group of the Bucyrus Salvation Army corps attended.

HAMILTON FOUND IN ALCATRAZ CAVE

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16—Floyd G. Hamilton, 36, southwest desperado who tried with three other prisoners to escape from Alcatraz penitentiary this week, was found today hiding in a cave on the prison island.

Hamilton was the last of the quartet to be accounted for.

One of the four was killed. The other three have been captured.

Warden James A. Johnston announced that Hamilton had been found in the cave, the convict said he never got far out into the waters of the bay because he knew he couldn't make the swim to safety.

He said he was sick, sore, wet and hungry.

Gov. Bricker Signs Small Loan Measure

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 16—Gov. Bricker today signed the "small loan bill," reducing rates for the first time since 1913, requiring that lenders obtain licenses, show assets of $10,000, and post a bond of $2,000.

The former interest rate on small loans was three per cent monthly on the first $300, but the new law cut it to three per cent monthly on the first $150, two per cent monthly on the next $150, and eight per cent annually on amounts over $300.

TWO SETS OF TRIPLETS

By The United Press

TURLOCK, CALIF.—Driven to a supreme effort by the constant war demands of "more production," a purebred Holstein owned by L. M. Fosberg gave birth to two sets of triplets in one year, and during the lactation period following the birth of the first set of triplets produced 475 pounds of butterfat. The cow is awaiting a medal from Secretary of Agriculture Wickard. The double birth of triplets is a rare occurrence in dairy annals.

PLANS POSTWAR REUNION

By The United Press

NAPA, CALIF. — Mrs. W. P. Blackburn, 68, is already planning a postwar family reunion of all her descendants who participated in the war. If all respond to her invitation which she is now sending out, there will be present two sons, five grandsons and a son-in-law. Just now they are all about anywhere from Guadalcanal to Iceland.

DRUNKS GET SPADES

By The United Press

McKEESPORT, PA. — Drunkards who land in jail won't idle their time away any more. Police Magistrate James Toohey's new greetings for his patrons is: "Warden, give this man his spade and direct him to the victory garden."

Kiwanis Hears O.W.U. Head

Economic Relationships Chief Peace Problem, Dr. Burgstahler Tells Club and Guests.

By EDNA S. DUTTON

A social highlight on the Kiwanis club calendar was the ladies' night party at which the members were hosts last evening at Hotel Harding. Dr. Herbert J. Burgstahler, president of Ohio Wesleyan university, was speaker for the evening and guests included wives and friends of the hosts.

The tables, arranged in the ballroom, were decorated with potted tulips in colorful wrappings and garlands of foliage, and decorations included a large American flag hung at one end of the room. Music for the dinner hour was furnished by Miss Virginia Grover.

Elandes E. Miller, president of the club, presided and welcomed the Kiwanian Queens, who are the wives of the Kiwanis club members, and guests. L. G. Jones, with William Dowler at the piano, directed the group in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Bells of St. Mary."

Dr. Burgstahler's Talk

John Dowler, program chairman for April, presented Dr. Burgstahler, who spoke on "Business Standards."

Absolute integrity, truthful representation, fair, equitable human relationship and service to mankind were given by the speaker as important and paying business standards, and also as a solution of today's world problems and those of the future. Personal concept, which, Dr. Burgstahler said, "is the best criterion in judging standards," and comparison with other business and professions determine the quality of merchandise in any business, he told his audience. In comparing the business of the world today with his work as a merchandiser of education he said that in due time the world will find out whether or not you are doing a good job—if they come back for our commodities, we know we are doing satisfactory work.

No. 1 Peace Problem

Dr. Burgstahler said the greatest problem we will face around the peace table is economic relationships and cited as one of the most distressing problems facing us today that of labor relations. "There is only one principle to measure by, "do unto others as they should do unto you," he stated. The difficulty in America, is, he said, we have developed selfish attitudes. The next two months, he declared will test whether or not this nation is concerned in winning the war.

"It is the business of everybody in America right now to take their turn in winning the greatest battle the world has ever known. We are fighting because we believe that all men are created equal, we believe all the world is a son or daughter of God," he continued. "If we believe that is what we are fighting for we must practice it at home" he declared and in closing gave as the most important, "service to mankind."

Silent boost awards were presented to Mrs. F. J. Hunter and Carter M. Patton, and special awards were won by Mrs. Carter M. Patton, Mrs. Ray Campbell, Mrs. A. B. Lawson, John Dowler, Miss Jessie Henderson, Dr. N. Siffritt and C. S. McCreight. A plant was sent to R. A. Gary, a member of the club who is ill.

In Guest List

Guests included aside from wives of the club members, Dr. Burgstahler, Wilson Tway, president of the Rotary club and Mrs. Tway, Mrs. Philip E. Guthery and Mrs. J. Paul Lauther, wives of Kiwanians now serving with the armed forces, Mrs. Lucille Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Huber, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Harris, Miss Elizabeth Zachman, Miss Jessie Henderson, Mrs. J. W. McMurray, Misses Helen and Jane Uncapher, Miss Ella Mears, Miss Edna S. Dutton, Miss Fanny Smith, Miss Mary Kathryn Smith and Isadore Birnbaum.

J. Douglas Torrance announced a program to be given by the a cappella choir of Harding High school on April 28 at Thomas A. Edison Junior High school auditorium. The choir is sponsored by the club.

Arrangements were in charge of Mr. Dowler, program chairman, William Preston, Dewey N. Bolyer and Jack F. Weis, social committee and Clarence Shockney, Carl Lemmitzer and J. T. Lynch members of the house committee.

GIVES STOCKINGS

By The United Press

SUNBURY, PA.—Mrs. Margaret M. Stahl, 87, turned over 23 years' accumulation of silk stockings—750 pairs—to the war salvage drive for use in making parachutes. Mrs. Stahl originally had intended knitting her collection into a rug, but now she'd "much rather see parachutes for boys at the front than the rugs."

We are selling the chattel property, personal belonging of the late Alice May of 132 Baker St., Marion, O., to the highest bidder. One of the most modern and antique sales of chattel and personal belongings we have ever held. Consisting of the following: modern furniture: 3-piece living room suite, poster bedroom suite complete, McDougal kitchen cabinet, Wilton rug, cedar chest, Hoover sweeper and attachments, radio, lawn mower, dishes, curtains, silverware, cooking utensils and trunk. Also a vast amount of beautiful antique: Walnut bookcase, Settee. Solid walnut, hand carved with bushy walnut finish, the finest marble top table over 100 years old. Walnut table, rocker, clock, linens, quilts, bedspreads, shawls, canes, beads, jewelery, consisting of gold rings, one with pearl set, and watch chains, gold watches, beautiful china dishes, one genuine alligator and two genuine cowhide bags, and 500 other articles too numerous to mention.
The above is from the Alice May home.

From Vernon Heights home—davenport, 2 large mahogany dressers and one large mahogany sheer, electric washer, leather couch, and other articles.

Anyone wishing to inspect this may do so Friday, the 16th.

Union County Man Sentenced To Prison

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, April 16—Clarence A. Sandusky of north of Marysville was sentenced to serve not more than six years in the Ohio penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge Richard Cameron Thursday on a charge of issuing a false financial statement with intent to defraud.

He pleaded guilty to the charge about two months ago and was released on probation when he expressed his desire to join the Navy. When he failed to get into the service, Judge Cameron ordered him to appear for sentence.

Ohio Welder Guilty of Sabotage Charge

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, April 16—A federal court jury convicted George Arnold Steele, 20, former resident of Franklin Furnace, O., of sabotage while he was employed at the Bethlehem-Fairfield shipyards.

Steele, father of an 11-month old child, was charged with welding improperly a total of 660 inches of metal on two specific days in February and March. The former Ohioan admitted "slugging" steel, a welding procedure which speeds production but results in hazardous workmanship.

WHEAT PRICE STEADY, TRADING DULL TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 16 — Wheat prices held steady in a dull market today on a little commission house and mill buying. The May contract was relatively weak. Corn sold at ceilings, rye was firm and oats displayed comparative easiness on fears of imports from Canada.

Another good trade developed in the cash corn market, with most sales made at ceilings. Demand was active, and the flood of grain coming from the country, started when yellow corn ceilings were raised, continued unabated. Both elevator houses and producers were sellers.

SHUNNED SEA URCHINS NOW IN BIG DEMAND

Men Who Catch Them Never Even Taste Them.

By The United Press

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, ME. — Sear urchins may rate on some menus but the majority of Maine fishermen who catch the pincushioned creatures haven't even tasted them.

The sudden popularity of the fish that looks like a prickly chestnut puzzles them. They remember when they stepped on them and avoided them along the coast.

Now commission merchants in New York offer them a cent a pound and sometimes as high as $1.50 a bushel for the heretofore shunned fish.

Catching them is easy, for some sections of the coastline are so infested with sea urchins that they can be shoveled into dories.

However, only one Boothbay fisherman admits that he ever tasted one and he tried it raw. Although he didn't like the taste of the orange-colored flesh, he and his co-workers are willing to keep scooping them up so long as there is a market for them.

But they wish some one would tell them who buys sea urchins and exactly what they taste like.

W. T. Holliday To Head Economic Committee

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., April 16 — Appointment of W. T. Holliday, president of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, as Cleveland area chairman of the national committee for economic development was announced today by C. D. Crabbs, chairman of the board of the Philip Carey Mfg. Co., Cincinnati, who is regional committee chairman for the Fourth Federal Reserve district.

Holliday said Robert F. Black, president of the White Motor Co., would serve as vice chairman of the Cleveland area committee, which includes Lorain, Cuyahoga, Geauga, Lake and Ashtabula counties.

Crabbs explained the organization as an independent, private, non-profit organization financed by contributions from individual business and organized nationally under the chairmanship of Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corp.

"The objective of the committee is to plan today toward the maintenance of a satisfactory level of employment in the post-war period, when war production will be over and 10,000,000 men will return to peace-time pursuits, eager for jobs," Crabbs declared.

STOCKS SPOTTY AGAIN TODAY

Market Turns Irregular After Two Days of Recovery.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 16 — The stock market reverted to mild irregularity today after two rallying sessions in which about half the thought that a secondary retrieved.

Conservative tendencies, brokers said, were inspired partly by the thought that a secondary reaction might be in the offing. The was news was a stand-off. Russian successes being offset by far Pacific doubts.

Bonds were selectively improved and commodities narrow.

Among stocks given intermittent support were N. Y. Central, Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., American Telephone, Homestake, Boeing and Goodrich.

Sales of a stock exchange membership for $48,000 up $1,000 at a peak since May, 1940, served as a prop for financial sentiment.

Followers of steels seemed to be waiting for clues regarding forthcoming dividends in this field.

YANKS

Al Simmons, who is trying hard to make a comeback. Another veteran, Pete Fox, is a fixture in right field.

Scramble For Third

Back of these two clubs may come a three-way scramble between the Cleveland Indians, St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers, with their ultimate positions dependent largely on the draft. On a hunch we would place Cleveland third, St. Louis fourth and Detroit fifth.

This leaves the Washington Senators, Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia Athletics to bring up the rear. Washington is much improved, but vulnerable to the draft. The White Sox are uncertain defensively and lack the power, while the less said about the A's the better.

BAGBY

Bagby has been assigned to pitch Saturday's game (if any) in Cincinnati, and then rest Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Paul Calvert and Allie Reynolds drew the Indian mound assignments for today's game, with Mel Harder scheduled for duty Sunday.

Outfielder Jeff Heath, who ended his holdout Sunday, failed to arrive at Dayton yesterday as per schedule but the Indians have had enough experience with war-time travel difficulties to appreciate the problem of getting from Seattle, Wash., to Dayton, O.

Clyde Shoun, Elmer Riddle and Ray Starr were the probable pitchers for the Reds today.

Manager Bill McKechnie says the Reds' lineup for opening day against the St. Louis Cardinals will be about what it has been in exhibition games. Lonnie Frey will lead off, the second batter is undecided, Max Marshall is No. 3, and Frank McCormick the clean-up followed by Eddie Miller, Bert Haas, Eric Tipton, and Ray Mueller will bring some power to the lower half. McKechnie hopes.

Hardin Co. Reports War Bond Drive

Hardin county today reported substantial progress in its part of the Second War Loan campaign, listing purchases totaling $935,409.25 toward a goal of $2,051,000. A. C. Johnston, chairman, said Wednesday's purchases amounted to $81,353.25.

Wong Ed reports that he has not heard from his parents since February, 1940.

HEALTH OF SHEEP IMPORTANT IN WAR

Has Bearing on Catgut Used by Army Surgeons.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O.—The health of Ohio sheep may be a factor in the rate of recovery of wounded American soldiers, according to L. K. Bear, animal husbandry specialist at Ohio State university.

The Army medical staff has made an appeal for more and better surgical catgut, Bear says, and catgut, which really is obtained from the intestines of sheep, is satisfactory for manufacture of surgical sutures only if the intestines were not damaged by internal parasites while the sheep was alive.

Injuries caused by the nodular worm are the most destructive to suture material, he explains, adding that these sheep parasites can be controlled by drenching the animals with a solution of phenothiazine before they are turned on pasture. He recommends one ounce of phenothiazine in milk or in molasses and water for sheep, and one-half ounce of the preparation for lambs. Infested sheep, he points out, will contaminate pasture fields unless control measures are used before the pasture season starts.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"OH, OH!" I gasped; "The abysmal, lying fiend!"

"Did you say lying?" he asked.

"Why of course I said lying. I told him flatly, 'Jack is my brother-cousin, you know. I was brought up with him from babyhood, and I know exactly what he could and could not be inspired to do. His neglect of Katharine and his moodiness were inexplicable, it is true, until we found the key in Ruth Hayes' treachery. But even if he believed the worst of Katharine, he never would take an action that would lead her up to public scorn.'

"Please forgive me, Hal pleaded penitently. 'I had no business to say that, but I have brooded over the whole situation so long that this last development made me go a little insane, I think.'

"What did you tell her?" I asked.

"The only thing I could tell her. 'I shall try to get the information you wish,' I said, 'but it will take time.'

"'None of that stalling,' she said. 'Three days from now at this hour I'll be in this office. See that you have the information I want at your finger tips then—or else.'

"Very Cute . . ." I quipped. "And I served notice right away on my own [illegible]

"How [illegible]

"Fine.

"And I say after [illegible] such.

"Good! I remembered. 'That will cost my father a million to [illegible]

"But he agreed and [illegible] be able to carry out [illegible] Ruth Hayes' treachery. [illegible] like that would do."

Merely Bluffing

"Don't worry about that in the [illegible] I said. 'In the first place, no newspaper would touch a story like that without proof, and in the [illegible] herself not to prove that. She is bluffing, but it may be a good idea to let her think he has [illegible] worked on us. Bluff. My father will have to decide that. He will be here within the hour, and I think you would stay until he arrives.'

"I would be glad to," he said.

"Not [illegible]" I said, as he started to go when I did. "I'm going to steal in now and see if Katharine is awake."

Katharine Excited

I found Katharine sitting tensely in the easy chair, and noted how excitement had enhanced the delicate beauty which she has kept even into middle age. No wonder Hal Meredith had loved her all the years, I thought.

"Well?" she said with an upward inflection.

"He has a strange and evil story to tell you," I said. "Meantime, I have been able to straighten him out on certain misconceptions he had as to Jack. I do not think you need fear to see him, Katharine. I think he is accepting his fate.

Her eyes were suddenly soft and misty.

"Dear Hal!" she said. "No woman ever had a truer lover, a more faithful friend."

"I think it might comfort him to hear that from your own lips," I said. "Suppose you go in now and tell him I said he was to tell you of his story himself. I will stay in here until you call me."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Sea Physicians

DR. RUFUS W. HOOKER has followed the sea as a medical officer for 15 years and has described his experiences in an autobiographical account, Ship's Doctor (published by Whittlesey House, New York, 1943). It is a very charming piece of anecdotage.

Every time that I sail on a ship it is with recurring astonishment that I find a doctor is aboard.

There are usually several other physicians who are, traveling for pleasure, and the ship's doctor rounds us up and gets us all acquainted. We sit around and talk about the time when Mrs. Soandso was misdiagnosed by all the good doctors in Baltimore, Maryland, and Rochester, Minnesota, and then the ship's doctor is able to add an experience which tops all other narratives.

Dr. Hooker starts out by telling the story that he was once called to the head office of the New York Steamship company and the Marine Superintendent said to him, "Doctor, the Argentine ambassador would like to book passage on this ship. Two competing lines have refused to accept the responsibility."

"When an ambassador can't book passage, it usually means severe illness. What is the matter with the ambassador?" asked Dr. Hooker.

"Myeloid leukemia."

"How long do they give him to live?" asked Dr. Hooker.

"Five days," Doctor."

"But it takes this boat 17 days to get to Buenos Aires. Does he wish to be buried at sea?"

"No, that is the rub. The Embassy insists that Senor Enrico must reach his own country, alive if possible."

"I might prolong his life beyond five days; seventeen days is asking too much . . . It means embalming."

After thinking it over, Dr. Hooker decided to take the case and consulted a mortician to whom he explained his problem. By dint of some eloquent persuasion (and a lodge pin identical to one in the mortician's lapel) he secured the instruction he needed, worked all night in the mortuary to acquire the skill and reached the dock the following morning one hour before sailing time—a part-fledged mortician.

The Ambassador was forthwith put aboard and, as predicted, died with due regard to his physician's pronouncements on the thirteenth day out. He was embalmed by Dr. Hooker and is now resting with his ancestors in Buenos Aires. This is only one of many anecdotes which show the ability, thoughtfulness and good sense of the surgeons who follow the sea.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. S.—Can it be definitely determined whether or not a person has adrenal insufficiency, or Addison's disease? If so, what kind of test or examination should be made?

Answer: The diagnosis of Addison's disease is usually not difficult. The patient with weakness, low blood pressure, loss of weight, a brown discoloration of the skin—especially on the exposed parts—is a suspected case. If there is pigmentation in the mouth and under the tongue, it makes it more certain inasmuch as most cases are caused by tuberculosis. Putting a small section of skin under the microscope and the determination of changes in the potassium and sodium content of the blood are quite final.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, April 17

THE AUGURIES are for a fairly progressive, profitable and pleasant day. There may be lucrative and friendly relations generally, although there may be some sudden or strange twist to the affairs. Becautions with all writings or papers.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a progressive and satisfactory day in finances, with friendly assistance or congenial contracts enhancing the prestige and popularity. This happy state of affairs may also be manifest in social, romantic or domestic affiliations. An extraordinary or surprising situation may arise and should be met with logic and good sense and not with gloom or depression.

A child born on this day may be moderately ambitious and efficient although there may be strange experiences in its associations. It should be financially succesful and generally popular although introspective and quiet.

Send 11 cents in coins for this pattern to The Marion Star, Needlecraft Dept., N. Y. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address. Delivery of patterns may take longer than usual because of the heavy volume of mail.

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts—it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives—you lend your money.

$31 FOR POUND BUTTER
